ALLIES STUDY REPLY TO PROTEST OVER AIR ATTACKS

TWO TREATIES ARE APPROVED BY BUNDESTAG

Bonn, Germany (AP)—Disarmed West Germany emerged today as the first nation to meet America's demand for "clear and visible" progress toward creation of a 2,000,000 man European army to include German troops.

By the sizable margin of 224-165, the Bundestag (lower house) of the West German Parliament finally approved the treaty last night. Its companion Allied-Bonn Peace Contract was okayed 226-164.

Although the treaties still face stiff legislative and court tests in Germany, the Bundestag was the first European legislative chamber to act on the army pact authorizing recruitment of 500,000 Germans for service with the projected six-nation, one-uniform Western defense force.

The action laid down a clear challenge to other West European nations, especially France, to get on with ratification of the treaty in their own parliaments.

In Washington, Secretary of State Dulles hailed the Bundestag's action as "a truly significant step forward." In a statement issued a few hours after the legislative balloting, the secretary said:

"There is now increasing likelihood that the European Defense Community will become a reality."

In Paris, an official French spokesman was quick to point out that the army treaty "still has to go through the upper house of the German Parliament where the vote will be a lot closer and then through the German Supreme Court where Socialists are attacking the proposal as unconstitutional."

The anti-remuneration Socialists claim the pact would alter the nation's Constitution and therefore requires a two-thirds vote for parliamentary approval.

Deadlock Over New U. N. Secretary-General Wide Open

United Nations, N. Y. (AP)—The race for a new United Nations secretary general was wide open again today with Russia's latest candidate, Mrs. Vijaya Lakshmi Pandit of India, beaten in her first bid before the Secretary Council.

In a grueling five-hour secret session yesterday, the 11-nation council turned down Mrs. Pandit, sister of India's Prime Minister Nehru, and then called again on the Big Five permanent members to try to iron out the deadlock before their next meeting, scheduled for March 24.

In the drawn-out maneuvering over a successor for Trygve Lie, which promises to continue for some time, only Lebanon was said to have voted with Russia in the secret ballot on Mrs. Pandit. Eight nations, including the United States reportedly abstained and Nationalist China, it was indicated, cast the one vote against her.

India's petite, grey-haired chief delegate, still in the running despite yesterday's defeat, has insisted she would "take the $40,000-a-year job only if everyone agrees on her. Her Indian colleagues indicate she would prefer not to be tagged as the candidate of either Russia or the West.

Volunteers Sealed in U-Boat Two Months in Fine Condition

Groton, Conn. (AP)—Navy brass and the 23 men who took part in it, agreed today that "Operation Hideout" was a success—but for different reasons.

Navy officials said they got the answers to highly important questions during the two months an officer and 22 enlisted men were "buttoned up" in the submarine Haddock.

Life aboard the atomic submarines of the future will be less difficult because of the experiment, they said. Such subs, one of which is building nearby, are expected to be able to remain submerged indefinitely.

The 23 volunteers, sealed in the Haddock since Jan. 19, emerged from the vessel yesterday after-

Kentucky University Coach and Others in Gambling Loss Suit

Lexington, Ky. (AP)—University of Kentucky basketball coach Adolph Rupp, Ed Curd and Frank Costello today were named codefendants in a Federal Court suit seeking triple damages of $573,257.79 for alleged gambling losses.

The suit was brought by Mrs. Lucille Chumbley Bradberry, Athens, Ga.

The amount asked is three times the total of the losses alleged in the suit. How many others besides Chumbley figured in the claimed loss of $191,085.93 was not stipulated in the suit.

Curd, Rupp and Costello, the suit alleged, "concocted a fraudulent and debasing scheme of gambling in schools, colleges and University sports and athletics."

"Seduced student leaders and players to betray their institutions and devotees of the institutions and college sports."

Costello was a key figure during the Senate Crime Committee investigation.

One of the group's methods of operation, the suit said, involved "manipulation and fakement" of point spreads in basketball games.

Three University of Kentucky basketball players pleaded guilty last year in New York to keeping down the scores in fixed games after being paid by gamblers. Two others admitted to a New York grand jury that they manipulated the scores in games played outside New York.

Trumans Leave For Vacation in Hawaii

Kansas City (AP)—Former President Harry S. Truman headed West today for a Hawaiian vacation on which he hopes to "do as little work as possible."

Accompanying him were Mrs. Truman and their daughter Margaret.

The Trumans were traveling in a private car of Averill Harriman, Union Pacific Railroad official and former mutual security administrator. Harriman planned to accompany the Trumans as far as Ogden, Utah, and then go to Sun Valley, Idaho, for his vacation.

The Trumans were scheduled to arrive in San Francisco Saturday. They will board the liner President Cleveland Sunday for Hawaii.

Knife-Wielding Fugitive Is Killed by Policeman

Pittsburgh (AP)—A policeman fatally shot a 28-year-old knife-wielding man today as he fled from a store where a window was smashed.

Killed was Joseph Reid, an employee of the U. S. Steel Co.'s Braddock Works.

Patrolman William J. Sauer told this story:

A passerby, Leo Doyle, 46, heard glass crash and saw a negro about to enter a store in the Homewood district. Doyle seized the man but was forced to release him when he slashed Doyle.

Doyle shouted for help and Sauer came running to the scene. The officer fired one warning shot then killed Reid with the second shot.

Doyle is pronounced in good physical condition. The submarine had been moored to a dock at the submarine base during the tests, mainly concerned with how the crew would withstand the effects of long exposure to carbon dioxide.

The 22 enlisted men were certain that the tests proved "you can believe your superior officer when he promises you all the beer you can drink."

Cmdr. Gerald J. Duffner, medical officer in charge of the project, said "Operation Hideout" was a complete success.

Half an hour after he said it, a barrel was tapped for the volunteers and the men quaffed the beer, saying "it tastes as good as we knew it would."

Harrisburg (AP)—The Chesterman Committee will go directly to the people to sell the idea of accomplishing $100,000,000 in long-range economies in state government operations.

Executive Director John N. O'Neill disclosed today $5,000 is being spent to print 10,000 copies of the economy report for general distribution throughout Pennsylvania. "Let the people talk to their legislators about the report to see what should be done about it," O'Neill told a newsman.

The committee official said the report should be accepted as a whole since it calls for wholesale reorganization of state government agencies to achieve the 100 million dollars in savings by 1960.

There was a question as to how the legislature will react to the

TEN PER CENT CUT ACROSS BOARD HINTED

Harrisburg (AP)—Economy-minded lawmakers today hinted the possibility of a 10 per cent cut across the board cut in appropriations to state departments. Chairman Norman Wood (R-Lancaster), of the House Appropriations Committee, said each department head is being asked what effect a 10 per cent slash would have on department operations.

Most of the departments, however, are protesting that Gov. John S. Fine already has pared their grants to the bone.

The committee's plan to distribute the report generally.

Rep. Adam T. Bower (R-Northumberland) and Sen. John M. Walker (R-Allegheny) both have said it would be impossible to achieve the committee's economy estimate.

A 30-man legislative committee which aired three various phases of the report abandoned further hearings on the grounds that nothing useful could be accomplished without the presence of Chesterman Committee members. The Chesterman group refused to attend the hearings.

As it stands now, bills to carry out the Chesterman recommendations will be introduced in the Legislature and take their chances on passage without any backing of the legislative committee.

The Chesterman Committee received an appropriation of $60,000 from Gov. John S. Fine last May to carry out its study. Expenses as of the end of February totaled $39,925.

The seven members of the committee served without salary. A check of the committee's accounts in the auditor general's department showed it received about $2,875 in expenses for travel and meals.

Over $3,000 Needed To Put Red Cross Drive Over the Top

An audit of monies received in the Red Cross campaign fund showed a grand total of $22,743.29 as of today noon.

It is hoped that reports and returns received at Red Cross Headquarters over the weekend will take a considerable bite out of the $3,400 yet to be raised if Warren funds are to meet the quota of $26,117.

Red Cross officials feel that nearly every local source of income has been solicited though there may still be some commercial or industrial firms whose pledges have not been received at headquarters.

Nearly all the volunteer workers have completed their assigned calls and little more can be expected.

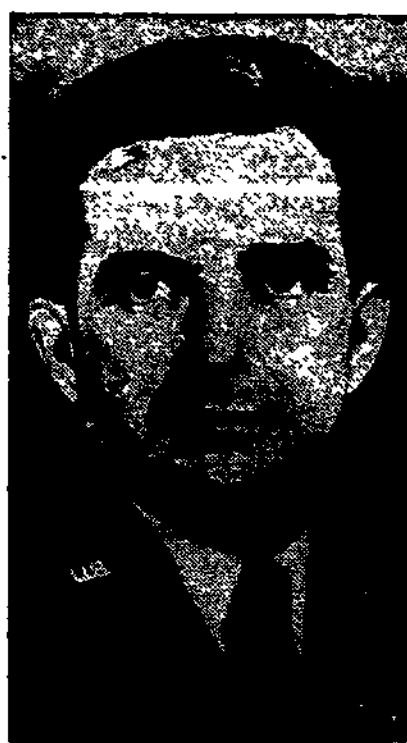

INQUIRY POSTPONED

Pittsburgh (AP)—A U. S. Senate investigation of possible subversive influences in the Pittsburgh area has been postponed indefinitely.

The hearing was scheduled to be held in the Federal Building here Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday by the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee. No reason was given for cancellation of the hearing yesterday. No new date was set.

AIR CRASH VICTIM?—Brig. Gen. Richard E. Ellsworth, 41, Erie, commanding officer of the Rapid City, S. D., Air Force Base, was among 23 passengers aboard the B-36 bomber which crashed on bleak Ransom Island off the Newfoundland coast. The plane was on a routine training mission. A rescue team from nearby Fort Pepperell Air Base reported "no survivors sighted."

St. John's, Nfld. (AP)—Search continued today for the bodies of two missing victims of a U. S. bomber crash on Newfoundland's isolated East Coast as rescue parties waited clearing weather to bring out the remains of 21 known dead. Their burned-out plane was one of two American bombers downed Wednesday in Newfoundland with a possible toll of 33 lives. Both planes were on training flights and crashed in foggy weather.

Quake Victims In Western Turkey To Exceed 1,000 Mark

Balkiesir, Turkey (AP)—Rescue workers dragged additional bodies of earthquake victims from the debris of villages and towns in Western Turkey today. The official death count thus far in Wednesday night's disaster stands at 455 but unofficial estimates say the total will reach 1,000.

Army, Red Crescent (Red Cross) and civilian volunteers gave aid to more than 1,000 injured and 15,000 homeless in the rich farming and mining region southwest of Istanbul and across the sea of Marmara from that big port. Between 3,000 and 4,000 homes were destroyed or damaged.

Yenice, a farm community of 5,000, was the center of the quake. Interior Ministry figures listed 420 dead there and 35 more at nearby Gonen, a town of 12,000 population.

Turkish newspapers estimated the dead at Yenice from 300 to nearly 1,000. Rescue workers found grim evidence of the suddenness of the quake at Yenice. A number of bodies were recovered from eight coffee houses where men of the town gathered in the evenings for card games, small talk and to smoke their colorful narghails (water pipes). One unconfirmed report said 70 bodies were taken from one coffee house alone.

Even after dawn yesterday, rescue workers were startled by continued rumblings.

DAUBERS DEPOSED

Five youths charged with vandalism at Warren High school during Tuesday night, when paint was smeared about the halls, are to be dealt with by the court. Four of them will be arraigned in juvenile court and the only one who is 18 will appear in county court. Three of the boys were students, two out of school.

SHARP ENEMY ATTACKS ARE HURLED BACK

Seoul (AP)—South Korean infantrymen hurled back two sharp attacks by some 100 Chinese on the muddy Western Korean Front today—the 1,000th day of the stalemated struggle on this Asiatic peninsula.

The Eighth Army reported troops of the Republic of Korea First Division smashed assaults by more than two platoons of Communists in a driving rainstorm near Little Nori Hill, west-northwest of Yonchon.

The heavy rains—up to two inches in some sectors—and a thick haze covered the battlefield. Sporadic patrol clashes were reported on the central and eastern sectors.

Allied fighter-bombers for the second day were hampered in their blows against Communist troops and supply facilities.

The U. S. Fifth Air Force reported that, later in the day, F84 Thunderjets caught a 20-truck convoy on the road from Kunu to the Korean Communist capital, Pyongyang. Pilots said they destroyed six trucks and damaged six.

At sea, the U. S. battleship Missouri blasted the long-besieged east coast port of Wonsan Thursday.

The Navy said that the Reds had installed a number of new gun batteries in the Wonsan area and were keeping an estimated 30,000 troops there to guard against a possible Allied landing.

Two Members of Bridal Party Dead in Accident

Uniontown, (AP)—A minister and two members of his family were killed and an intended bride and bridegroom were seriously injured yesterday in an auto crash 14 miles west of Uniontown.

Dead are the Rev. Robert E. Frankenberg, 26, pastor of the First Baptist Church at Greensboro in Green County; his wife, Louise, 23; and their daughter, Winifred, 3.

Hurt were the Rev. Vernon Deromer, 34, a faculty member of the West Virginia Bible College at Fairmont, W. Va., and his fiancée, Miss Sandra Mahassey, 30, of Penns Grove, N. J.

The group was en route to Point Marion where the Frankenbergs planned to leave the child with relatives while they accompanied the couple to Maryland for their intended marriage.

Mossadegh Rejects Latest Proposal for Settling Oil Dispute

Tehran, Iran (AP)—Premier Mohammad Mossadegh rejected Britain's month-old latest proposal for settlement of the British-Iranian oil controversy today but coupled his turn-down with a hope the two nations would renew diplomatic relations.

Elated with his recent Italian court victory over the British-owned Anglo-Iranian Oil Co., Mossadegh said in a radio address he believed his government now could sell enough oil abroad to operate the Abadan refinery at full capacity—17½ million gallons of petroleum products daily.

Although he offered no counterproposal, the aged Nationalist premier insisted he was leaving the door open for further negotiations in the dispute over compensation to the AIOC for Iran's nationalization of its vast properties in the country.

Mossadegh severed relations with the British after 19 months of fruitless negotiations in the oil controversy.

Newspaper Price Hikes Not Hindering Sales

New York—The American Newspaper Publishers Association reported today that the 515 daily newspapers in the United States, Canada, Hawaii and Alaska which increased circulation rates in 1952 generally suffered no loss in circulation.

Some of the newspapers reported a gain in circulation, the association reported. It added that the report was based on total replies from 1,408 newspapers.

MID-AIR CRASH STUNS TITO—Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia watches in horror as two British Meteor jets collide in mid-air and crash to the ground during an air show in the Balkan leader's honor at Duxford, England. Watching the tragedy, which claimed the lives of both pilots, are, left to right: Lord De L'Isle and Dudley, Secretary of State for Air; Sir William Dickson, Air Chief Marshal; Tito; Air Marshal Sir Basil Embry, and an unidentified citizen. Tito departed immediately after the crash.

Marshal Tito Turns Sightseer And Speeds Through Ancient Castles in the London Area

London (AP)—Marshal Tito, dictator turned sightseer, sped at a dizzy pace today through ancient castles all tourists must see in the London area.

Natally attired as commander in chief of the Yugoslav army, the anti-Kremlin president of Yugoslavia in 15 minutes toured Hampton Court, where Henry III held great banquets. He headed about half an hour to absorb Windsor Castle, royal country residence and burial place of Britain's kings since Tudor times.

The marshal has completed his political, military and economic talks with British leaders. Only social affairs were left on the schedule before he departs sometime tomorrow on the Yugoslav naval training ship Galeb (Seagull) which brought him here from his Balkan land.

There were spontaneous cheers from small groups on the 13-mile run from Hampton Court to Windsor. Tito's convoy of 11 cars frequently moved at 65 miles an hour. The black, bullet-proof limousine had an escort of 14 motorcycle policemen.

The Communist leader scarcely paused as he stepped briskly through staterooms and bedrooms of Britain's kings and queens.

Tito also was to attend a luncheon given in his honor at the House of Commons by the national executive of the opposition Labor party.

The Yugoslav strong man was reported well pleased with results of his round of defense talks with British leaders.

Three Co. Doctors Will Be Called For Exams on March 30

In addition to having been ordered to send 29 Warren County young men to Harrisburg for actual induction into the Armed Forces, next Thursday, March 26, Warren County Selective Service Board 162 today received additional calls for men.

Melvin G. Keller, chairman, said today that three Warren County physicians will report to Harrisburg for re-examination on Monday, March 30.

TWO BRITISH AIRMEN IN MANEUVER ACCIDENT

Gainsborough, England (AP)—Two British airmen died last night in the crash of a speedy Canberra jet bomber, returning from a mock war raid over West Germany. It was the first fatality in four days of the Exercise Jungle King—the biggest air maneuvers of its kind since World War II.

The two-engine bomber plunged to the ground and exploded just three miles short of its home base here. Another Canberra set a record last fall by flying across the Atlantic and back in one day.

Johnston (AP)—Mrs. Agnes G. Brydon of Johnston is free on $5,000 bond after pleading innocent to a charge of turning her husband into a flaming torch.

The 42-year-old widow was held for court yesterday on voluntary and involuntary manslaughter charges by Alderman James T. Malloy.

Police Chief Charles R. Griffith said Mrs. Brydon signed a statement several days ago admitting she helped burn her husband, Donald, 44, to death Feb. 28 in their home.

A CONFERENCE IS SUGGESTED BY RUSSIANS

Bonn, Germany (AP)—Allied officials today studied a Soviet suggestion for a British conference aimed at avoiding air clashes along the East-West border in Germany. British sources described the Red reply to a Western protest as somewhat conciliatory but there was no reaction from American or French quarters.

The suggestion was made last night by Gen. Vassily Chouikov, Soviet commander in Germany, in otherwise rejecting a joint protest from the Western occupation powers against hostile action by Soviet fighter planes toward three British aircraft last week.

Chouikov proposed a conference of "competent" British and Soviet military representatives "to work out adequate measures" in order to "avoid such disagreeable air incidents," the Soviet news agency ADN reported.

Authoritative British sources said the United States and France should be included in any conference over air safety problems in Germany. A counterproposal to Chouikov to hold Four Power talks is expected to be discussed at a meeting of the three power Allied Commission in Berlin next week.

The agency said Chouikov's reply to the British, French and U. S. high commissioners declared their protest was "based on information that do not meet the facts."

Dismissing Western accusations of "reckless and aggressive behavior" and "deplorable departure from the standards of humanity," Chouikov counter-charged that in two cases the British planes concerned violated air traffic rules over the Soviet zone.

In the case of a Royal Air Force bomber shot down by Soviet fighters with the loss of seven British lives, the Soviet commander repeated previous charges that the bomber had fired first. But he added he considered "as deplorable the fact that the crew of a British bomber had lost their lives."

In London, sources close to the British Foreign Office said they considered Chouikov's reply "reasonably conciliatory." They declared his use of the word "deplorable" was a new note in Russian exchanges with the West.

Beside the attack on the RAF bomber, the Allied protest concerned the buzzing of a British European Airways plane en route to Berlin and a pass made by Soviet fighters at a British plane over West Germany.

"Greatest Show On Earth" Wins For DeMille His First Oscar In Forty Years

Hollywood (AP)—A happy Hollywood rejoiced today in honoring one of its founding fathers—Cecil B. DeMille whose "Greatest Show On Earth" became his first Oscar winner in 40 years of epic making.

It was one of the few times Hollywood has honored one of its greats while he was still around to enjoy it.

The movie pioneer, now 72, was the big star of the silver jubilee Academy Awards last night. A film colony audience cheered wildly in the RKO Pantages Theatre as millions more for the first time saw the ceremony via television.

DeMille's win for "Greatest Show" was the night's only surprise. Favorites Shirley Booth and Gary Cooper came through as predicted to take the best actress and best actor awards.

DeMille, whose 70 pictures previously had won him millions at the boxoffice, admitted he was most surprised.

He was happiest for his daughter, Katherine DeMille, who became the first person to have a father and husband win Oscars on the same night.

She is the wife of Anthony Quinn, whose earthly portrayal of a Mexican revolutionary in "Viva Zapata!" won in the best supporting actor class.

Gloria Grahame, also a favorite, was voted best supporting actress for her job as the flighty Southern belle of "The Bad and the Beautiful."

Another veteran, John Ford, won the directing award for "The Quiet Man." Miss Booth, the blowy housewife of "Come Back, Little Sheba," is a veteran of 28 years of Broadway acting. Miss Booth's Oscar came on her first try at movie-making.

Cooper, for 28 years on the side of movie law and order, and a strong favorite, won his second Oscar for playing the righteous marshal of "High Noon." He previously won for "Sergeant York" in 1941.

The ballad "High Noon," probably the only song in history that gives away the plot of a movie, won the best-song award for composer Dimitri Tiomkin, and lyricist Ned Washington.

Bob Hope, who was master of ceremonies, was awarded a special Oscar for "his enormous contribution to the laughter of the world."

Starting at 9 o'clock SATURDAY NIGHT
That old maestro of organ and piano, that well-fed and popular kitten of the keyboards, Orrie Beebe, will be on hand with his other inimitable animated musicians. They'll play for your listening pleasure whether you listen or whether you don't, and they'll play for you to dance even if you lurk in a corner and leer at them all evening. Just be there is all they ask, and if you shriek out that you want to go home, they'll take action to prevent any such calamity!
P. S.—The sewer stoppage is now only a terrible memory after excavations right into the suburbs of Red China's capital, so all is sweet, all is clean—just for you!

The Changing Landscape

RALPH G. ECKERT
Soil Conservation Service
Warren

Hello folks,
If anyone needed added proof that raindrops are a factor in increasing erosion all they had to do was look along the base of any bare slope just after one of the rains we had this last week. There over the face of the hillside they would have seen plenty of evidence of the scour erosion in rills and small gullies and at the base the deposited materials from these gullies plus the particles of soil blasted loose by the raindrops and transported down the slope.

Besides the splash sheet and gully erosion the soils are also damaged by loss of fertility. This is the removal of all the lighter fertility elements from the soil by erosive agents. Organic material is one of these elements and the loss of this one means a loss of water holding capacity of the soils.

Another big damage is the breaking down of the clods and crumbs of soil. In a good, well-drained soil there are many, many cracks and pores that provide for water and air to enter and pass through the soil. As the clods are broken down into fine silt and clay particles, they flow into these numerous cracks and pores and seal them over. This sealing makes it impossible for the water to enter the soil and thereby increases the runoff with its resulting gully erosion. The outstanding example of gully erosion in the United States is the Grand Canyon on the Colorado River. Of course this breaking down process is dependent on the cover, size of raindrops, intensity and duration of the rainfall. We have all seen large scale examples of the puddling or sealing action by raindrops in the wallowing of pigs and other animals. They can seal off a well-drained soil in short order by a continued agitation of water and soil particles in any depression.

We have seen the result of and process by which the raindrop takes its place as an important factor in soil erosion. What then can we do to prevent this damage to our precious natural resource—top soil? Where gullies have already started, check dams can be built, sloping sides if not too bad and seeding or sodding. To take the shock of the raindrop a protective cover must be maintained on the soil by either cover cropping with close growing plants or stubble mulching or mulching the surface with manure, wood chips, sawdust or hay. However cropping of alternate strips of row and close growing crops must be resorted to in order to control the sheet and gully erosion resulting from runoff. Diversions, terraces and sod waterways either with or without strip cropping are also used to control the excess surface water and walk it off the fields. One of these practices may do the job effectively or it may take a combination of two or more of them to accomplish the necessary results. See you all next week.

Bell Aircraft Corp. Of Texas Solicits Workers in Area

Personnel representatives from the General Electric plant in Erie, Pa. were in Warren this week to interview job applicants, were to complete their local interviews this afternoon with about 60 men having applied for positions at the Erie plant.

At the Pennsylvania State Employment office, 225 Pennsylvania avenue, west, where the interviews took place, it was said today that not as many applications were received as had been expected. David C. Levine, manager of the office, said this indicated that many of the former employees of the Knox Bottle Company of Sheffield, which closed last Saturday, were finding employment elsewhere.

Mr. Levine said today that two representatives of the Bell Aircraft Corporation, Ft. Worth, Tex., will be at the local office from 9 until 12 and from 1 until 5 on Monday and Tuesday to interview applicants for jobs.

Physical examinations during the coming week will determine how many of the 60 applicants for jobs at General Electric will be accepted.

Unemployment claims in Sheffield will be handled by representatives of the local office, starting Wednesday, March 25, and every Wednesday thereafter until the list of unemployed drops below 75. The staff from Warren will be at the Sheffield township building where compensation payments will be made.

Times Topics

TRAIN LATE

For the first time in many weeks, the morning passenger train from the east reported in to Warren 30 minutes late. No reason was learned for the delay. Railroad officials say that since installation of diesel power for passenger service, the trains are rarely late.

HOSKINS ON RADIO

Warren relatives have received word that William Hoskins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Hoskins of Weston, W. Va., who has become a composer of note, will broadcast his own composition over the Mutual network at 10 p. m. Sunday. Mr. Hoskins, the elder grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Hoskins of Warren, is director of the department of composition and theory at Jacksonville (Fla.) College of Music. He is an Oberlin graduate.

REMAINS SERIOUS

Hospital authorities report this morning that the condition of Eugene Collins, 46, of Kinzua, remains serious although Mr. Collins appears to be holding his own. He was admitted at the hospital Tuesday afternoon following an accident at his home in which he was seriously gored by a bull which he was attempting to help load on a truck. His brother, Roland, probably saved his life by clubbing the bull away from him. A New York state man, whose name was not learned, was also knocked down by the angry animal, but was not injured.

NEW LEGION STEWARD

Carl Borger, 105 Terrace street, a former resident of Phillipsburg, has been engaged as the new steward at the American Legion Home. Mr. Borger, a member of the Legion who served in the Army Air Corps from 1944 to 1946, is a former employee of the Emblem Oil Company. The usual fine entertainment is promised at the Legion tomorrow night, the club being again open after extensive excavations to remedy a sewer stoppage which closed the club for several days. Orrie Beebe and his orchestra will play Saturday night and attendance will be increased by the birthday party to be held at 6:30 and which was postponed from Tuesday.

Russell Department Names Committee For Gala Days Date

Russell—Visited at the regular meeting last night by two firemen from the Rust Volunteer Fire Department, the local company named a committee to look into a conflict in annual Gala Day dates. Charles Fox, Theodore Fox and Axel Naaman will consider the possibility of changing the local dates, since those of Rust have been traditionally held on the specified dates.

Another important item of business was the naming of committees for the benefit pancake supper to be served by Russell firemen in their hall from five until nine o'clock this Saturday evening. Those appointed were as follows:

Cashier, Kenneth Ohmer; bakers, Axel Naaman, John Stanton and Paul Lindell; coffee, Chuck Miller, Elmer Roberts, Ralph Walker; floor committee, Dick Miller, Warren Jones, Kenneth Jespersen; Theodore Fox, Charlie Fox, Dick Burlingame; dishwashers, Russ Lupica, Al Ritchie, Wallace Barstow, Laverne Durkin, Lynn and Lyston Jones.

President Charles Miller was in charge of the business session, which included the report by Chief Kenneth Jespersen of three chimney fires, one grass fire and one truck fire during February.

Lambert Owens was accepted into membership and three applications were received by the company.

Dick Miller, Larry Park and Fred DeWater were appointed to serve as refreshments committee for next month's meeting.

At the close of the business session, lunch was served by Paul Lindell, Al Ritchie and Elton Anderson.

THE MAGIC EGG—The Little People's Easter Story

By WALT SCOTT

THE VOICE OF LOVE

William Neubauer

Chapter 15
THE celebrity nibbled on a fat underlip. His eyes rolled as though seeking an avenue of escape. Then he recalled the secretary's suggestion and his spirit quailed. "Well, she may as well spend the summer at the hotel. As a matter of fact, I like the place. I like that young Nancy Carlisle a great deal."

"Her sister?"
Langley Curtis got up. "Are you just using her, Dan? Are you trying to turn the candidate's daughter against him and the old doctor?"

"As a matter of fact, Uncle, she's quite a girl. A bit unworldly, yes, a bit inexperienced. But nice. You know what? I find her fun to be with."

Langley's eyes began to twinkle. "I'll tell you something, Dan. The man who has the woman he loves has much more than money. Remember that."

Dan rumbled laughter. "You matchmaker! Come on; let's have some chow and get back to Golden City."

He wondered if he could fall in love just like that. He wondered why he'd fallen in love when there was no room in his life for such nonsense. Yet what grand nonsense it was!

It was a relatively large room with a low, beamed ceiling. It had high windows which precluded a view of the world, but after she'd grown accustomed to them Ruth thought they were a good idea. They needed neither windows nor shades, yet perfect privacy was guaranteed. Furthermore, furniture could be placed along the walls directly under them with a consequent saving of space. And quiet! By straining her ears she just managed to hear the rumble of traffic on Main Street a block away. She turned to Mr. Driscoll of the Golden City National Bank. "Very nice," she declared. "Of course, you'd be expected to give the walls a fresh coat of paint. A doctor's office must be clean, you know."

He reflected, "That'd be pretty expensive, Ruth. And we're letting the place go pretty cheap. As a matter of fact, if it wasn't a doctor we'd ask more. But Mr. O'Brien thinks the doctor should be encouraged."

"Very kind of Mr. O'Brien, I'm sure," grinned Dan. He glanced around. "This was a big moment for him. For this he'd betrayed, for this he'd connived, for this he'd robbed himself of his own respect. Yet he felt that it was worth the price he'd paid. Now, at last, his life was beginning to mean something. At thirty-four he was at last beginning to strike off on his own."

He met the quiet, almost grave brown eyes. "What do you think, Ruth? Think it'll make a good office?"

"I'm not an authority, Dan. You forget the only doctor's office I know anything about belongs to Dr. Fell."

"Reception-room is large enough. My workroom could be larger, but with a little figuring I guess we could utilize all the space there is. And the plumbing setup is perfect. Add a sink in the workroom and we'd be set."

Mr. Driscoll nodded. "You could have a heavier electric circuit put in before the end of the week. That would take care of your equipment, Dr. Curtis. If you'll take a two-year lease we'll add the sink and circuit at no extra cost. As I said, Mr. O'Brien thinks you should be encouraged."

"I'd take it, Dan. Even if you build the hospital you'll need an office in town. A hospital would have to be built on cheap ground, wouldn't it? The only cheap ground available now is about a mile north of here."

He pursed his lips. This was the moment. Once the lease had been signed there'd be no turning back. He'd be committed. He'd have to go through with it or lose what little self-respect he had left. It would truly be war.

Mr. Driscoll smiled unctuously. "Perhaps," he suggested to Ruth, "Dr. Curtis would like to think it over. There's no hurry. We'd be glad to give him an option for a week."

"Certainly, sir."

"They went back to the dull, gray day. West of the town, great creamy banks of fog were rolling in from the sea, and even above the hubbub of Main Street traffic they could hear the foghorn sounding on the breakwater. Ruth wondered if the Dauntless Me had beaten the fog to land. She worried about Rod and Johnny and Mr. Hufford. There was always the possibility of being run down by one of the great freight-boats heading for Golden Gate Channel. Such things had happened before.

Three years ago—

"I said," said Dan Curtis, "how about a sandwich and some coffee? I forgot to eat lunch."

"We have things in our icebox. Why don't you have a snack with me in the cottage?"

He met her eyes. She was surprised to see a quick flush creep up his cheeks. Perceiving it, she wondered. Feeling his trembling hand in hers, she suffered a violent attack of giddiness. This love—what fools it made of people, what children it turned them into!

SOMEHOW she got back to the car, and somehow she drove through the fog to the hotel. She showed him into the small-living-room, told him to make himself at home, then went down the hall to the Pullman kitchen. Roast beef or ham, or both? And shouldn't he have milk and tea as well as coffee? She laughed, feeling foolish. How little she knew about men!

She looked up as his steps sounded in the hall. Very gravely she said: "I don't know what you like."

"All sort of things, Ruth. Isn't it terribly warm in here?"

"Over a hundred, at least."

"Can you carry all that?" he asked solicitously. "You know, women surprise me. They always seem so weak, so fragile, yet they can do such heavy work."

"Oh, it really isn't heavy. If you'll just drag those patio chairs to the shade..."

"Later," he murmured, equally oblivious to the little fact that the fog had grown thicker. He reached for the tray, knowing with the sure instinct of love that with its two plates and two glasses of milk and two paper napkins, it was a weight that would do irreparable damage to her young, delicate arms. "Here," he ordered gruffly, "let me."

"Do you think I'll do well?"
Dan asked.
"I do," she said. "I really do think you'll make out well. It stands to reason, Dan, that with Doctor reaching retirement age, people will have to come to you. A year or so, and you'll be the one everyone calls Doctor."

"It'll be a good life. I'll work, you know. I won't say I'm as good as Fell is right now, but people will get the best that's in me. And at prices they can afford to pay."

"That will be important, Dan. Incidentally, you may as well know that Doctor has been saying some pretty awful things about you. He seems to think you're just in this work for what you can get out of it."

He laughed ruefully. "I may have given him that impression. I was angry. He offered me so little. He seemed to resent me, as a matter of fact."

"He should retire," she said gloomily. "I do wish the two of you could work something out."

"So did Dan. Now that he had a chance to think he had a bad attack of stage-fright. A cold sweat broke out on his face. 'It's so damned warm,' he complained. 'Drink your milk,' she said coolly. And now the confusion, the self-consciousness were gone. This was her father all over again, a man who punished himself with fear, a man who wasn't at all sure of himself. 'I'll help you, Dan. And Mr. O'Brien will help you, too. I think he's being very kind, don't you?'"

"Your boy friend's father?"

Her cheeks burned. "My what? Dan, who said he's my boy friend? That Nancy? One of these days I'll skin her alive, I swear it!"

He took the metal table and pushed it away. He drew his chair closer. His eyes bored into hers. "Ruth, I'm a funny sort of man. I've never in my life gotten between another man and his girl friend. Call it silly, but that's the truth."

She waited; and there was more. Now the rear fence was gone and the flowers were wreaths in the mist. The smell of the sea was heavy in the air; the clamminess of the sea was on their faces and hands.

"It has to be right, you see," said Dan Curtis. "It's a lifetime together. Its foundations must rest on bedrock. Am I making sense? What I'm trying to say is that it would be a rotten way to begin, if Bob O'Brien had to be cut out."

She liked him for that. And now she was angry all over again with Dr. Ambrose J. Fell. Here was a man of honor, here was a man of great integrity, and instead of appreciating that, Doctor had all but called him a would-be thief, a disgrace to his profession!

"Bob is a friend, Dan, nothing more."

The chair came nearer with a metallic scrape of legs on cement. Her hands were engulfed in his, suddenly, she felt the warmth of them, the strength of them, and the touch made her tingle.

"Do you believe in love at first sight, Ruth?"

"No."

He was taken aback. Then the wide, whimsical mouth curled into a smile. "But it seems to have happened to me, Dan. I know it's silly. And I shouldn't be silly! I'm a teacher. More than that, I'm an experienced woman of twenty-three who knows that love should be of the mind, not of the emotion. And yet..." he trumpeted.

The moment came at last. He got up from his chair. He stood woodenly before her, tall, thin, handsome, in love. Then his hands twitched at the sides of his cocoa-brown slacks. His hands reached for her, slid under her armpits and raised her to her feet. "Ruth," he whispered. "Oh, Ruth,"

Russell-Akeley Methodist Parishes Hear Reports and Elect New Officers

Russell—The quarterly conference of Russell and Akeley Methodist parishes was held in the latter church, with a chicken dinner served by Akeley members.

Rev. Wayne Furman, district superintendent from Jamestown, gave an inspiring message on "Principles of Lenten Fasting, Self Denial and Self Discipline".

At the business session, reports were given by officers of both churches, it was voted to raise the salary of the pastor, Rev. John L. Buck, and superintendent Furman was asked to have the pastor returned to the charge next year.

Mr. Furman announced that at this year's conference sessions, the Advance Program will be launched for a four-year project of $335,000, portions of the money to be used as follows: Conference claimants, $100,000; Cribbs Home, $50,000; church extension, $100,000; world missions, $50,000.

Officers elected to serve the Russell parish for the new year are as follows:

Wife Complains That Hubby Lacks True Appreciation

A FRUSTRATED wife wrote me this unhappy letter: "I'm so discouraged I could sit down and cry if it would do any good. Asking your advice, however, might help—so here goes. "I'll tell you the incident that got today off to such a bad start. It's typical of the kind of thing that is always happening. "Last night was my mother-in-law's birthday. I spent the day baking and frosting a birthday cake, cooking a really delicious meal, wrapping the gifts I had gone to a lot of trouble to select, etc. "I went to sleep last night pleased with the birthday dinner and the nice evening that followed. My husband seemed pleased, too. "But as often happens to me when I am concentrating on one thing, I forgot to buy cream yesterday. So there was no cream for breakfast. My husband was furious and slammed out of the house without his breakfast."

THESE LITTLE THINGS WEAR HER DOWN

"IT IS this kind of thing that constantly gets me down. No matter how hard I've worked to do something to please him it is all forgotten the minute he discovers I have forgotten to do some little thing. "This may sound trivial to you but it is terribly discouraging to me."

It sounds as though you are married to a man who is more impressed with perfect efficiency than with generous gestures that come from the heart.

If you want to keep peace in the family you can't overlook that or expect him to feel and think as you do. What you can do is keep a list for the next few months of all the things that annoy him. When you've made the list study it carefully. Then no matter what else you do or don't do see that the items which are evidently so important to him are always taken care of.

That won't make the two of you see life in the same way. But it should cut down daily friction.

Unusual Drama Is Being Readied By Youngsville Class

Publicizing its coming dramatic production, next Thursday and Friday evenings in the Youngsville High School auditorium, the junior class writes:

"Listen girls: Have you ever been in love with a ghost? Well, Virginia Otis was. Yep, she loved the ghost, and the ghost loved her. Then—For the outcome of this unusual romance, one of the quaintest and most charming in all English literature, you'll have to see the junior class performance of 'The Saturday Evening Ghost'."

The production is a comedy in three acts by Tom Taggart, adapted from Oscar Wilde's famous short story gem, "The Canterville Ghost". According to the sponsors, it is one of the most novel and original ever presented on a Youngsville stage and is sure to reach a high mark for dramatic presentations in that community.

Although faithfully reproducing the quaint atmosphere of the little Wilde classic, Taggart has injected a few new slants of his own, so that there will be thrills and surprises galore, even for those already familiar with the original tale.

Warren Talent Is Well Received In Ludlow Gathering

Ludlow—Mrs. Carl Lundahl, dramatic interpreter of poetry, Mrs. Everett Borg, popular contralto, and Linnea Scott, accomplished pianist, all of Warren, gave a spiritually-inspiring Lenten program at Moriah Lutheran church for an appreciative audience of 110 people, with guests from Kane, Sheffield, Warren, and Ludlow.

Mrs. Lundahl opened the program with an explanation of Lent, followed by music which proceeded in cantata style, the songs emphasizing each poem describing some especially moving event of the life of Christ. Mrs. Borg stirred her listeners, many of whom are of Swedish descent, when she sang three Swedish songs. Miss Scott is an able accompanist. The group was particularly appreciative of the closing poem by Mrs. Lundahl, which depicted Mary after the Crucifixion.

Mrs. Lawrence Larson, president of the sponsoring organization, the Martha Missionary Group, opened the meeting with a welcome and presented devotionals in an original way. Mrs. Ed Wenstran presided at the organ. Ernest Carlson, Ludlow, gave a touching little poem of missionary interest prior to the taking of the offering, which was dedicated to American Missions. The special offering taken in envelopes from members and interested people will be sent to the special missionary appeal for Japan. The benediction was pronounced by the Rev. Nore Gustafson of Warren.

Coffee was served in the church parlors at a beautifully appointed table, with Mrs. Wales W. Connelly, Mrs. M. I. Jones, Mrs. Lawrence Larson, and Mrs. Enoch Nelson as hostesses. Table decorations were made by Mrs. W. W. Connelly.

MEDICAL AUXILIARY

Members of the Women's Auxiliary to the Warren County Medical Society met at hospital Tuesday for a sewing session, spending the afternoon in stitching and marking garments.

Mrs. J. R. Sugerman, president, conducted a brief business meeting and announced that Mrs. R. E. Love would attend the State Auxiliary's seventh annual mid-year conference in Harrisburg Thursday and Friday of this week as the Warren county delegate.

Following the meeting, a delicious dinner was enjoyed at the YVCA, with Mrs. R. D. Donaldson in charge, assisted by Mrs. Quay McCune, Mrs. L. J. Berger and Mrs. M. V. Ball. Decorations were carried out in a St. Patrick's theme, proving a festive table.

ST. PAUL'S EVENTS

Monday—7:30, meeting of church council.

Wednesday—6:30, senior choir rehearsal; 7:30, Lenten service; 8:30, adult instruction class.

Thursday—8:00, Dorcas Society will have its monthly meeting, entertained by Mrs. Charles N. Johnson, Mrs. Harold Johnson and Mrs. E. F. Munson, with all members and friends cordially invited.

Saturday—10:00, confirmation instruction class.

YOUTH FOR CHRIST

Warren County Youth for Christ will meet at 8:00 p. m. Saturday in Bethel EUB church, where the Spring Musicals will be presented. An excellent, varied program of vocal and instrumental numbers has been planned to interest all music lovers. Members and friends are welcome and are also reminded to save Saturday, March 28, when the group will show the film, "I Beheld His Glory".

Successful Style Show Is Staged By Girl Scout Troop

Mrs. Walter Mathyer, leader of Troop 4, has been receiving many compliments on the very successful style show, "Salute to Spring," given by the Girl Scouts at Lacy school building. She extends her thanks and appreciation to all who took part in the program and the fashion revue.

Martha Nuhfer was announcer, Sylvia Blech, Alberta Dombek and Marilyn Jensen were color guards for the flag ceremony. All joined in singing "America" and the girls gave their Scout Promise, after which a group of troop members, sally Dickerson, Dorothy Mathyer, Gayle Noel, Marilyn Eames, Jeanne Simonsen and Martha Nuhfer, sang "Tell Me Why," "All Night, All Day" and "Our Chant Song," with the story of the Chant in Switzerland told by Gayle Noel.

Jeanne Simonsen was accompanied by Ruth Ackert for two vocal solos, "April Showers" and "I Can't Help Singing"; followed by William Daley, Warren Boy, choir member, in "Is I Gotta Go to School, Ma". Miss Ackert was at the piano for his accompaniment, also.

A novelty number, "Easter Parade," was sung by Jeanne Simonsen and enacted by Martha Rader, Dorothy Mathyer, Gayle and Sally Dickerson. Dianne Anderson, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Donald Anderson, gave two lovely ballet numbers; William Henry, also of the Boy Choir, sang "I Went to Your Wedding" and "Little White Clouds"; Johnnie Check was accompanied by Mrs. Hansen for his tap dancing; and William Daley returned for "The Same Old Shillelagh". All these numbers were received by the audience with enthusiastic applause.

To the accompaniment of beautiful music played by Miss Ackert, the following girls and adults modeled the latest spring fashions through the courtesy of The Miller Shop: Kathy Pearson, Becky Trax, Rebecca Samuelson, Jackie Miller, Edwin and Doris Anderson (twins), Donna Jansen, Sandra Sednez, Sandra Lali, Janice Larsen, Sylvia Blech, Alberta Dombek, Marilyn Jensen, Dorothy Mathyer, Jeanne Simonsen, Sally Dickerson, Gayle Noel, Martha Rader, Martha Nuhfer, Murea Conn, Norma Sponsler, Mrs. E. R. Anderson, Alice Anderson, Mrs. Helen Noel, Mrs. Raymond Dickerson, Mary Coates, Mrs. Lewis Conroy.

Bea Trax, narrator, closed the show with "Lullaby Lane," the first 12 little girls returning in kimonos and pajamas, each with a teddy bear, and all led by one child carrying a lighted candle.

TAPE RECORDING TO FEATURE EUB SERVICE

The opening service of the Youngville EUB church school on Sunday will feature a tape-recorded panel discussion, "Experience Speaks."

Several members of the group will go to Cory this evening to enjoy a tour of the new parsonage and educational unit of the EUB church, Dr. H. Ray Harris, pastor, and one of the members of his building committee, will then discuss with the Youngville representatives interesting highlights of their building program.

A portion of the Cory Sunday school opening service last week has been recorded and will be used as an introduction to the Sunday morning discussion. Members and friends of the Youngville school are reminded this week is the monthly building fund emphasis and the total offering received will be dedicated to that purpose.

BIRTHDAY EVENT

The Hannah Gallagher Circle will meet at 7:45 p. m. Monday with Mrs. Charles Gordon, 15 West street extension, with Violet Cummings as co-hostess.

Jennie Blaisdell Circle held its regular meeting at the home of Mrs. W. H. Brenton, the 19 persons in attendance including two new members and four visitors. Mrs. Baggus led devotions and the business session was in charge of Mrs. Krimmel. Two letters were read from the missionary; it was voted to attend church as a body Sunday evening; Mrs. Strickland reported on calls made to members unable to attend meetings; Miss McKinich gave an interesting report on the second chapter of "An African Safari". Lunch was served by Mrs. Brenton and her committee, after which Mrs. Ealdwin distributed a number of religious tracts and booklets. The next meeting will be held April 20, the place to be announced in the church bulletin.

YOUTH IN CHARGE

At 7:30 p. m. Sunday in Bethel EUB church, young people will be in charge and the pastor, Rev. in charge and the pastor, Rev. Roger D. Morey, will preach on "The Would-Be Disciple". LEGION AUXILIARY MEETING ON TUESDAY

The second meeting for the month of March for the local American Legion Auxiliary will be held at 8:00 p. m. Tuesday at the Legion Home. The time draws near to select a high school girl who has completed her junior year and is eligible to attend the Keystone Girls' Camp, Scotland, Pa., and Mrs. J. G. Kiernan, Americanism chairman, will have a guest on hand to show the film, "Girls' State", taken at camp last year when Beverly Sidon was the student given the honor of attending. Junior Auxiliary members will find this film especially entertaining.

Also to be shown at this meeting will be "Man Alive", the educational film nominated for the famous Hollywood Oscar. The movie, dealing with cancer control, is an educational film with an entertaining slant and a theme emphasizing the danger of ignoring cancer symptoms through ignorance, fear or carelessness. Officers of the auxiliary urge that a large group be on hand to view both pictures.

FOR RECENT BRIDE

Russell—Mrs. Gerry Briggs and Mrs. Ernest Beckwith entertained at a miscellaneous shower at the Briggs home to compliment Mrs. Willis Lundberg, the former Shirley Michael.

Prizes for games were awarded to Mrs. Arthur Briggs, Jr., Mrs. Fritz Lundberg and Mrs. Axel Anderson. Mrs. Lundberg was remembered with many nice gifts from the 20 guests, who came from Scandia, Venturatown, Lander, Akeley and Russell. Co conclude, the hostess served a delicious lunch.

ALTAR SOCIETY MAKES PLANS FOR FUTURE

A large turnout of members of St. Joseph's Altar Society attended the tureen dinner in the club-rooms last evening, when a bountiful dinner was served at 6:30, and was very enjoyable.

A short business meeting followed, when plans were made to receive Holy Communion in a body at the nine o'clock mass Easter Sunday, and plans were made for the next meeting April 18th, at which time all members are reminded to make their returns on the apron project.

Mrs. Rose Barone and her committee had charge of the social hour last evening.

HONORS BRIDE-ELECT

Russell—Mrs. William Martin was hostess to a miscellaneous shower Wednesday evening honoring Ada Wright, who will become the bride of Bruce Edwards in April.

Contests were enjoyed, with prizes awarded to Mrs. Arnold Jewell and Mrs. Lillie Martin. The honored one received lovely gifts from the group of relatives and friends present and the hostess concluded the evening with refreshments.

YW DELEGATES AT PLANNING MEETING

Mrs. Howard Van Orsdale and Mrs. George Templeton, Jr., attended a planning meeting in Jamestown this week to prepare for the coming YWCA Neighborhood Meeting in that city April 29.

Associations from Titusville, Oil City, Meadville, Westfield, Bradford, Kane, Jamestown, Erie, and Warren will join in this gathering being held for the third year. An interesting program has been planned from 10:00 a. m. to 3:45 p. m. and it is hoped at least three carloads of YW members will come from each city to participate in the event.

Further program details will be announced later.

DUPLICATE BRIDGE

Winners in last night's duplicate bridge game at the YWCA were Mrs. David Cropp and Mrs. Allie Russell; second, Mrs. W. B. Knapp and Mrs. N. J. Mangus; third, Mrs. M. A. Kornreich and Gladys Williams; fourth, Mrs. R. F. Haussman and David Cropp. Another game is scheduled for next Thursday evening and the public is cordially invited to participate.

NEWS OF LUDLOW GIRL SCOUT GROUPS

Ludlow — Intermediate Girl Scouts attended the Juliette Low party sponsored by the District and held Saturday afternoon at the Sheffield High School. This party stressed international work and collections from troops were received in a unique ceremony. The girls lighted candles for each troop and presented the sock full of coins each troop had gathered for the Juliette Fund in celebration of Girl Scout Week. The 41st birthday of the American Girl Scout movement was stressed. Games and refreshments were enjoyed at the close of the program. Mrs. Lawrence Johnson attended the party. Other adult helpers for the day included Mrs. Charles Fetzek, M. I. Jones, and E. W. Johnson for transportation.

Senior Girls had planned to attend this meeting but for some unexplained reason did not attend this special event.

The Intermediate Troop held a St. Patrick's Day party at the meeting room in American Legion Hall on Tuesday afternoon, with each girl responsible for one game and a certain part of the supper served at five o'clock. Credit was being given for Cook and Hostess badges. Adult helpers were Mrs. M. I. Jones, Mrs. Mollie Stamm, and Mrs. Charles Fetzek.

SENECA PTA HAS INSTRUCTIVE TALK

The March meeting of Seneca PTA was opened by the president, Mrs. Ed Knapp, with devotions conducted by Mrs. Cleon Douglas. Mrs. Willard Zerbe reported on the recent Community Council meeting and urged more members to take part in this phase of PTA work. Appointed as a nominating committee were Mrs. John Caidin, Mrs. Charles Stone and Mrs. Charles Barone.

Miss Claire Elliott was introduced as guest speaker, giving a fine talk on work of the Children's Aid Society. She outlined the history of the organization, which had its original building where the New Process parking lot now stands. Crowded conditions at the State Hospital and Rouse Hospital led to formation of the organization, she explained. Miss Elliott reviewed several actual case histories, which gave a more informative view of the work involved in taking care of the less fortunate who would, otherwise, be a burden to all society.

At the close of the program, refreshments were served by Mrs. Richard Arnold, Mrs. Walter Lundberg and Mrs. Sundell.

Kate Cooper Circle members will be entertained at 7:45 p. m. Monday at the home of Mrs. Mary Canby, 105 North Irvine street, and are reminded to bring their articles or money for the bazaar.

MRS. W. R. BURST

Mrs. Mabel Olson Burst, wife of Walter R. Burst, of Starbrick, and daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Richard Olson, died Thursday afternoon at 12:30 o'clock, following an extended illness. Born in Warren on October 22, 1905, she had lived in this vicinity as her life and was a member of First Presbyterian church.

Besides her husband, she leaves a step-son, Donald Moore of Girard; also the following brothers and sisters: Mrs. Esther Gustafson, Roger, Raymond, Gilbert and Ralph Olson, Warren, and Mrs. Ann Sundell, Tidouate; three step-grandchildren, several nieces and nephews.

Removal has been made to the Templeton Funeral Home, where friends will be received at the usual hours, starting at seven this evening, and where services in her memory will be held at 3:00 p. m. Sunday. Dr. Robert S. Steen, Presbyterian minister, will officiate and interment will be made in Westview cemetery, Starbrick. (Franklin paper please copy.)

CATHERINE M. DIETSCH

Mrs. Catherine Mack Dietsch, widow of Joseph C. Dietsch, 107 Jackson avenue, died at her home at 6:00 p. m. Thursday following a short illness. She was born in Warren March 6, 1874, and had been a lifelong resident of the community. She was a faithful member of First Lutheran church and charter member of its Women's Bible Class.

Surviving are the following children: Mrs. Katherine Randall and Mrs. Leo L. Gleese, Warren; Russell F. Dietsch, North Warren. One son, Paul, preceded her in death in 1936. She is also survived by one sister, Mrs. Lydia Spangler, Warren, and a brother, William Mack, Tidouate; five grandchildren, eight great-grandchildren, several nieces and nephews.

Removal has been made to the Peterson Funeral Home, where friends will be received at the usual hours, starting at 7:00 p. m. Saturday, and where services will be held at 2:00 p. m. Monday. Interment will follow in Oaklawn cemetery.

HOME ON FURLOUGH

Pvt. John Castagnino has arrived home from Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo., for his first furlough since leaving Warren last Nov. 11. Pvt. Castagnino will report to Camp Stoneham, Cal. He is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Castagnino, 1612 Pennsylvania avenue, west.

No Reduction in the Need of Beds for TB Patients Seen

Prolonged use of drugs in the treatment of pulmonary tuberculosis may make possible a reduction in the amount of bed rest in highly selected cases, but there is no indication there may be a decreased need for beds for tuberculosis patients in the near future, according to the Committee on Therapy of the American Trudeau Society, medical section of the National Tuberculosis Association.

In a statement issued through its chairman, Dr. Robert H. Ebert, of the University of Chicago, Department of Medicine, the committee pointed out that interest in the possibility of reduction in bed rest has resulted from recent developments in drug therapy and surgery and that a number of studies of this question are in progress.

"In the very early stages of some investigations, evidence suggests that, in highly selected cases, a moderate reduction in rest therapy, during prolonged chemotherapy, is not detrimental to the health of the individual," the committee states. "However, this does not apply to the average case of tuberculosis and much more nearly complete follow-up studies will be needed to determine fully the effect of this change in therapy. Furthermore, there has been no clear indication that in advanced cases of tuberculosis the amount of rest therapy may be reduced with impunity even with fairly effective drug treatment."

The committee emphasized that, where reduced bed rest is being tried, it is for the purpose of study and is not to be considered standard practice and, furthermore, "there is no indication that shortly there may be a significantly decreased need for beds for tuberculosis patients."

Council to Consider Sewage Disposal at Meeting on Monday

A special meeting of Borough Council has been called by President William E. Rice for Monday night, to consider plans and costs of sewage disposal in Warren.

Mentioned by Mr. Rice early in the year as "something we must face and tackle," the problem will be discussed by Council members at Monday night's session.

The thoughts of Council members in regard to sewage disposal will aid in future plans, it was said today, and it is desired to get a full picture of what is needed.

Another important phase of the discussion will deal with the method of financing this improvement. Formation of an authority, with power to sell bonds, will be considered.

Sharon Meeting to Promote Interest in Laymen in Nursing

Sharon—Nurses and lay persons interested in nursing from 11 northwestern Pennsylvania counties have been invited to meet at Sharon General Hospital, Saturday, March 28, to organize as part of the National League for Nursing for the promotion of more interest from laymen in nursing.

By-laws will be adopted and officers elected at the meeting at 2 p. m. in the hospital auditorium.

The meeting was called by Miss Sara Jean Clark, director of nursing at Sharon General Hospital and chairman of the Arrangements Committee of five district organizations which are combining forces to further nursing education. Other members of the committee are Miss Florence Cruser, Erie; Miss Mary Lauer, Oil City; Miss Mayfred Burroughs, Bradford; and Mrs. Helen Gulher, Clarion.

Representatives are expected from Mercer, Venango, Crawford, Erie, Warren, McKean, Potter, Forest, Clarion, Jefferson and Elk counties.

The organizations which are participating in the joint effort on the district level are the National League for Nursing Education, the National Organization for Public Health Nursing, the National Association of Colored Graduate Nurses, the Association of Collegiate Schools of Nursing and the American Association of Industrial Nurses. These groups have both nurse and lay members.

Bible Words to Live by

My favorite Bible verses are these from Romans 8:38-39:

"For I am persuaded, that neither death, nor life, nor angels, nor principalities, nor things present, nor things to come, nor powers, nor height, nor depth, nor any other creature, shall be able to separate us from the love of God, which is in Christ Jesus our Lord."

This means that in all matters affecting man's eternal welfare he is beyond the reach of any human dictator; he is not dependent upon any human institution. Man's relation to God is personal, direct, immediate. My faith has cost me nothing, but round the world, thousands are called upon today to suffer for their faith. I have often wondered if I could take anything that may happen to me and do so with the certainty and the serenity that characterized Jesus. The knowledge that nothing can separate me from the love of God is the underlying force that enables a man to face the future unafraid.

Speaker at Youngsville

The Rev. Jimmie Davis, Long Beach, Calif., will be the special guest for a pre-Easter series of revival services in Youngsville Methodist church March 24-29 and he master, Rev. C. C. Ross, extends a cordial invitation to other churches of the community to attend as many meetings as is possible during this brief campaign. A community rally will be held at 1:00 p. m. Palm Sunday afternoon. Jimmie Davis is a graduate of Moody Bible Institute, university student of West Point, and holds a master's degree. He has been outstanding in youth work; is an accomplished song leader and soloist; is a clever magician and illustrates many of his messages with magic. Described as having a striking personality, he is popular with young and old alike.

In addition to speaking in the Methodist church at 7:30 each evening, he will have meetings at 1:00 p. m. each school-day for the youngsters; and will be the Kiwanis Club speaker at 6:15 p. m. Tuesday.

Many Projects Are Planned at Ludlow To Raise Finances

Ludlow—There was a splendid attendance at the regular meeting of Luther League, with much enthusiasm being shown among the membership in earning funds to send delegates to the International Conference in Boston this summer. Already scheduled are a baked bean supper for the public on Tuesday, April 7; a cakewalk and a midsummer festival.

President Wayne Gregg was in charge of the session, which included piano solos by Susan Anderson and Judy Johnson; vocal solo, Alexandra Connolly; saxophone solo, Klester Connolly; reading, Michael Swanson. A committee composed of Counsellors Tillie Olson and Edith Larson, Susan Anderson, Wayne Gregg, and Patty Erickson met at the close of the meeting.

Summer camp was discussed, with Complanter and Colgate extending invitations. Chautauqua also extends a welcome to any Leaguer. Four Leaguers of this group plan to attend the International Youth Conference at Boston, Wayne Gregg, Susan Anderson, Patty Erickson, and Nancy Carlson.

Refreshments were served at the close of the program by Janice and Nancy Carlson, assisted by their mother, Mrs. Stanley Carlson.

The James Ueber American Legion Auxiliary held its March meeting in the Legion Hall, with a fine attendance. President Linnea Swanson conducted the business session and a program stressing community service was presented by Mrs. M. I. Jones and Mrs. Enoch Nelson. Reports were made by all chairmen and it was stated the afternoon bake sale had been successful. Mrs. August Peterson displayed special products sent to the meeting. Coffee was served from a table attractively decorated in a St. Patrick's theme by Mrs. John G. Johnson and Mrs. Lawrence Olson of Wildcat.

Lawrence Larson and Leroy Johnson were hosts for the regular meeting of the Lutheran Brotherhood. About 30 members were present to enjoy an excellent film of Yellowstone Park produced by the Ford Company in cooperation with the Department of the Interior and the National Association of Parks. Carl L. Swanson, president, presided at the business session, with Gustav Olson presenting devotional. The program included readings by Ernest Swanson and Herman Hanson, and a vocal solo by Leland Engman. Refreshments were served in the late eve-

The Last Sorrowful Days of Jesus

BY WILLIAM E. GILROY, D.D.

THE last sorrowful days of Jesus before His crucifixion were brightened with hope, even as He spoke of tribulation: "Be of good cheer: I have overcome the world." (John 16:33.)

The disciples may well have recalled these words of good cheer after the Resurrection, and as they saw through obedience to their Master's command the Christian faith spreading and beginning its world conquest.

But in the darkness of that hour with their Master saying strange words of what was to befall Him, their hearts and minds were still evidently set upon the idea of an earthly kingdom.

We can well understand their confusion. Peter was about to deny vehemently that he knew the Master who had been apprehended. Yet it was this same Peter who had been with Jesus on the Mount of Transfiguration and who had hailed his Master as the Messiah, "the Christ, the Son of the living God."

It seems inconceivable that Peter's denial of the one whom he had hailed as Lord and Master was due to any cowardice or lack of will.

More probable, and more in harmony with all that Peter became, his denial was a reaction of disappointment from all that had led him to leave his fishing nets and follow Jesus.

ning and a social hour was enjoyed.

James Nelson, Harrisburg, was a weekend guest at the home of his mother, Mrs. Emil Nelson. Mrs. Nelson spent several days last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Nelson in State College.

BARNES

Barnes—Her many friends in town will be interested to know that Mrs. Myra Titus, who has been ill at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald MacMartin in Corry for the past few months, was taken by ambulance to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Preston Miller in Erie Saturday afternoon. Fred MacMartin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald MacMartin is a patient in St. Vincent's Hospital in Erie, which made it imperative for Mrs. Titus to be moved.

A soup sale and supper, sponsored jointly by the Omega and Adult Bible classes for the Sunday school, was held in the basement of the Methodist church. The affair was a success financially, netting a little over $50, which was applied on recent repairs to the furnace. The ladies working together also had a very enjoyable day and are grateful to all who helped to make the project a success.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wolfe and daughters visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Thomas in Tionesta Sunday. Upon arriving home, they found guests, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Master and daughter, Shirley of Knox, who remained for supper.

Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Holden visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Rea at Bradford Tuesday. The purpose of the trip was a visit with Lawrence Rea, their ten year old son, who is recuperating from a recent attack of rheumatic fever.

Jacob Mellinger has returned from a two week's visit with friends and relatives in Pittsburgh and neighboring towns.

Mrs. Bertha Bowley entered Warren General Hospital Sunday and the following morning submitted to minor surgery. She was brought to the home of her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Harris in Sheffield Tuesday afternoon. Her son,

He had acted with vigor and determination then and in his denial he was acting with the same vigor, in renouncing it all. Yet his renunciation had in it something of his impulsiveness.

So Peter, when the crisis of his denial had passed, went out and wept bitterly.

He remembered the Master's prediction of his denial before the cock's crowing.

But neither the denial nor the repentance could overcome his disappointment. He had left all to follow Jesus but he was going back to his fishing nets. "I go fishing," he said to his fellow disciples, and they were ready to do with him. (John 21:3.)

But then came the revelation of the living Christ. It was a different sort of fishing in which Peter engaged on the Day of Pentecost when the first great ingathering of disciples gave evidence of the power of the Gospel, vindicating the words of good cheer that the Master had expressed in an hour of sadness.

These things were written down in remembrance after the Resurrection and triumphs of faith had brought new understanding to the disciples. But both the tragedy and the glory are there, the sorrowful days out of which came the message of the friendship between God and man (John 15:14, 15), and man's eternal place in the love and life of God.

Bell's TV Networks Will Be Described At Rotary Meeting

A lecture-demonstration describing how the nation-wide Bell System television networks were developed and how they operate will be given before the Warren Rotary Club at the regular meeting at 12:15 p. m. March 23 at the Y. W. C. A. by R. Graham Fithian, Public Relations Representative of The Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania.

Following a discussion of the general characteristics of television and the way programs are transmitted, Fithian will describe the new "Radio-Relay" system which passes network television programs and telephone calls from one tower to another all the way across the country, using tiny microwaves, which are not affected by static or other interference. He will also tell of the operation of coaxial cable which is used for both television and telephone transmission.

Fithian is a veteran telephone man, who has been associated with The Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania since 1930 and has held a number of posts in Pittsburgh and Western Pennsylvania.

GARLAND

Garland -- H. Hill is suffering with an arm infection which has made it necessary for him to go to the hospital for treatment.

Shirley Russ has come to make her home with Donna Graham, having lived for some time in the Burt Graham home, Matthews Run.

Mr. Burnside has been taken to the Warren hospital, suffering with blood poisoning. Several days ago he received a cut on his leg while at work in Grand Valley. Infection set in later.

Mrs. Claude Price was taken to the Corry hospital Tuesday, suffering with gall bladder infection. Chas. Briggs, Sr., who has been seriously ill with pneumonia in the Warren hospital, appears to be responding to treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Frampton and family, East Hickory, visited the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Merle Sandrock, over the weekend.

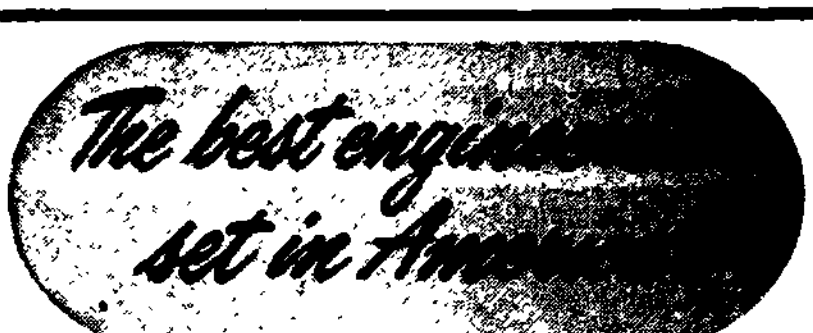

John Tadyus, who has been under treatment weekly with Dr. Fortune at Erie, is not responding as the family had hoped and it may be necessary for him to submit to surgery.

Leo Stec, Corry, was in the village visiting relatives over the weekend.

Word comes from the John Radcliff family, who recently went to Arizona, that they are headed back east, not finding things to their liking in Tucson.

HOLDS DOWN FORT—The Army having rejected his application for discharge on dependency grounds, former New York Giant outfielder Willie Mays will continue playing ball for Fort Eustis, Va. (NEA)

GUESTS FOR LUNCHEON—President Eisenhower bids good-by to Rep. William H. Harrison, (R., Wyo.), grandson of President Benjamin Harrison, left, and Rep. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., son of President Franklin D. Roosevelt, at the White House portico. The two relatives of former presidents were among a group of Republican and Democratic congressmen invited to lunch by President Eisenhower.

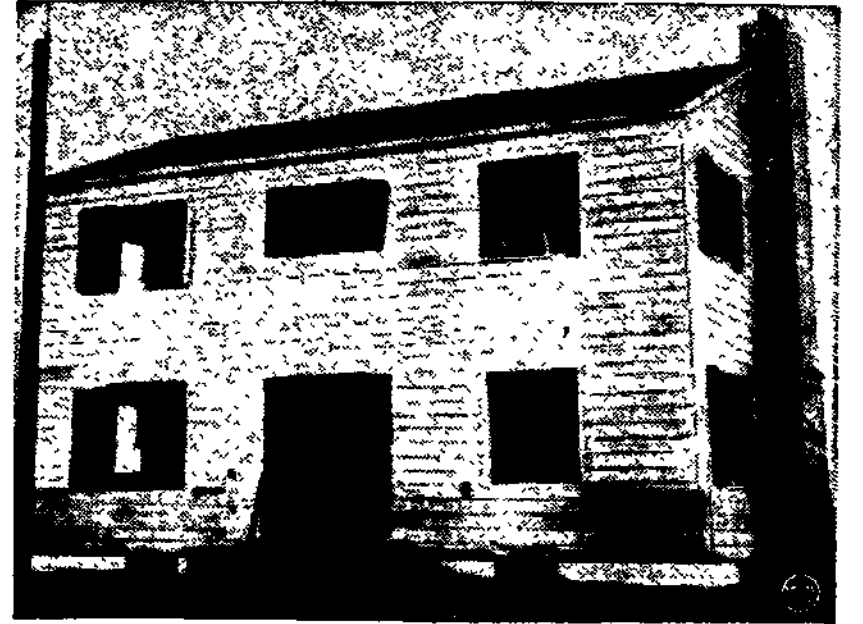

EVEN DOZEN—Col. Royal N. Baker, McKinney, Tex., shot down his 12th MIG to become the world's leading jet ace. Baker's latest kill topped the record of 11 MIGs set by Maj. George A. Davis of Lubbock, Tex., who is missing in action. Speaking of his latest kill Baker said, "I wish I could have gotten two—that would have made a proper Baker's dozen." Baker's plane, a Sabrejet, is equipped with the new radar gunsight.

ROYAL PRECEDENT SET FOR TITO—Marshal Tito, president of Yugoslavia, poses with Britain's Royal Family after having lunch with Queen Elizabeth II. He is the first Communist dictator ever to be received at Buckingham Palace. From left: Queen Mother Elizabeth, Marshal Tito, the Queen, the Duke of Edinburgh, and Princess Margaret.

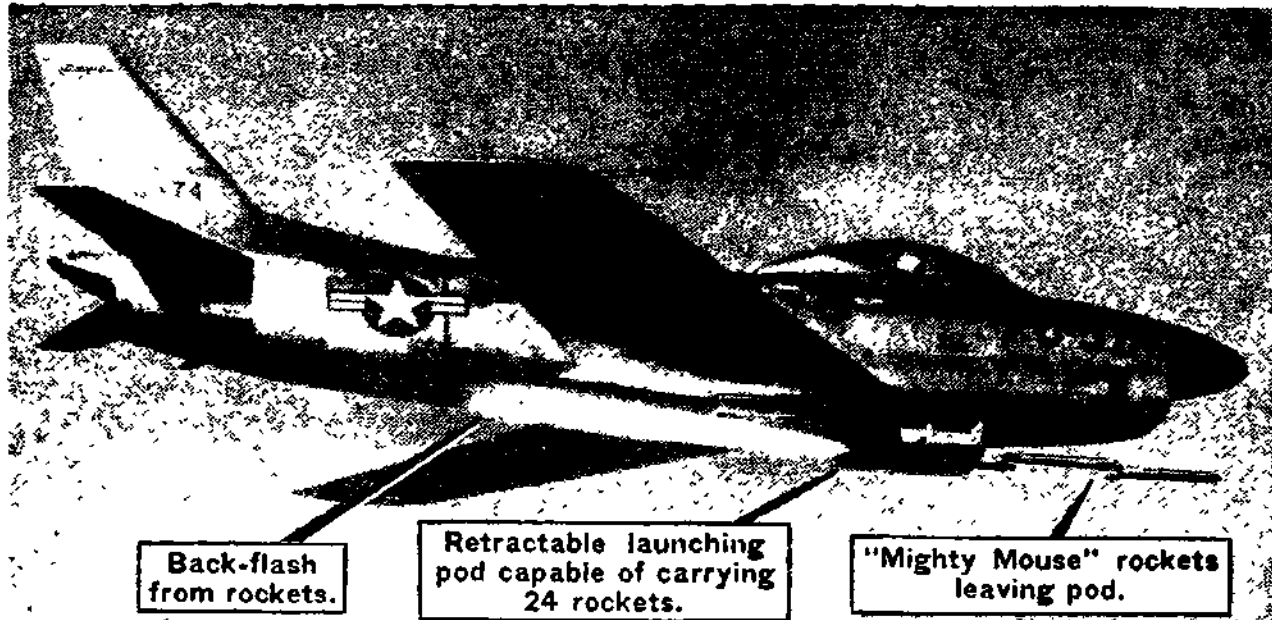

HAIL AND FAREWELL—Col. Royal N. Baker, McKinney, Tex., world's leading jet ace and commanding officer of the 4th Fighter Interceptor Group in Korea, receives congratulations and "bon voyage" from ex-Gov. Adlai Stevenson. Baker is en route home; Stevenson is touring Asia. Col. Thomas De Arnet, Huntington, Calif., Baker's successor, looks on.

"HOT" HOUSE—Paint scorched and windows shattered by a nuclear blast one and one half miles away, "House No. 2" stands deserted and internally shattered at the Atomic Test Site in Nevada. Dummy occupants of the house were pinned to the floor by overturned furniture, and, if alive, would have been seriously injured by flying glass and plaster.

SWEDISH "CAT" IS VERSATILE—Oscar Rundqvist, of Stockholm, Sweden, surrounded by 36 of the 40 musical instruments he plays, draws a bow across the strings of a transparent cello. The 40-year-old musician is a versatile artist, playing both jazz and classical music.

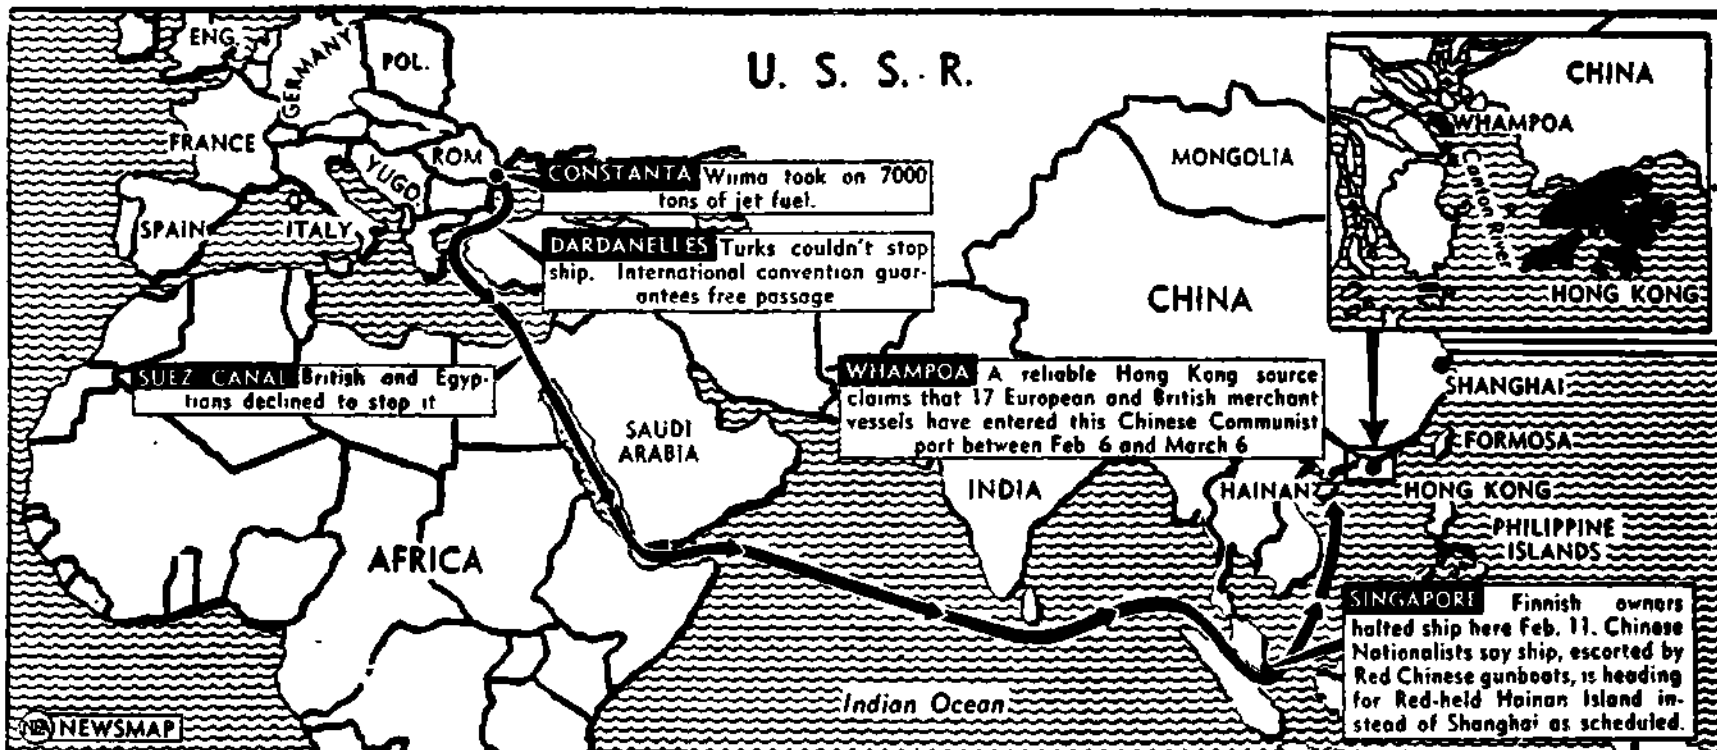

ROCKETS FROM F-86 "POD" TO PLAGUE ENEMY—The wraps are off the secret rocket-firing device on the U. S. Air Force F-86 Sabre jet. It is a retractable launching pod which snaps into the fuselage after the firing, giving the plane a streamlined surface for near-sonic flight. The plane is the nation's only one-man interceptor, and its pilot can search out enemy aircraft with his radar scope and attack without actually seeing the enemy. The 24 rockets are the "Mighty Mouse" type, equivalent to a 75-mm. artillery shell.

STEVENSON "UNDER FIRE"—Adlai Stevenson, wearing helmet and armored vest, and followed by 8th Army commander Lt. Gen. Maxwell B. Taylor, visits the Western front in Korea. While the former presidential candidate watched cleanup operations of the "Little Gibraltar" battle from a hilltop forward observation post, a Red mortar shell dropped only 300 yards from where he was standing.

CONDUCTS, "PAYS" FOR HER CONCERT—Giannella De Marco, 8, Italian child prodigy, who has conducted at more than 100 concerts in Europe and South America, rehearses, above, with the London Philharmonic Orchestra, at London's Royal Albert Hall. A Home Office ban on Giannella's conducting was lifted when she offered to donate her fee of 300 pounds to a children's charity.

OIL FOR THE JETS OF RED CHINA—Newsmap above shows the course taken by the Finnish tanker Wiima in its effort to deliver 7000 tons of jet plane fuel to the Chinese Communists. Chinese Nationalist navy is patrolling to intercept any attempt to run their blockade. Inset map shows closeup of Whampoa Island, in the mouth of the Canton (Pearl) River, 12 miles below Canton. European and other ships, laden with material for Chinese Reds, bypass British Hong Kong and unload at Whampoa.

LAST OF THE "BOYS IN BLUE"—"Ready and willing" to follow his friend and comrade James A. Hard in death, Albert Woolson, 106, reads the news of Hard's passing. Woolson, of Duluth, Minn., the last survivor of the 800,000 man Civil War Union Army, served as drummer boy. He is in good health although nearly deaf.

Bill Brown Leaves March 26 For Baseball Training Camp

ONE OF WARREN'S OFFERINGS to pro baseball, Bill Brown, will leave by plane Thursday, March 26, for Midland, Texas, where he has come to terms with the Midland Class C ball club for the second straight year. The Texas team plays in the Longhorn League. Before being sold to Midland, Bill, a catcher and outfielder, had a contract with the Erie Sailors of the Middle Atlantic League for the 1951 season. Locally Bill, a graduate of Warren High School in 1945, played three years with the Glendora team, one year with the National Forge and one year with the Warren Merchants. The popular Warren boy, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph C. Brown, 111 Center street, was in the U. S. Navy from February of 1945 to July, 1946.

Youngsville Legion Defeats Keating In Rifle Team League

J. Thompson fired a 192 total last night to lead the Youngsville American Legion's rifle team a 949 to 945 victory over Keating in a War-Mac League match fired on the winners' range.

The individual honors, however, went to Keating's S. Rhodes, who hit a 100 prone and 95 off-hand for a 195 total.

Expect Large Crowd To See McClintock, Loop Tilts Monday

A large crowd is expected to be on hand at the YMCA gym next Monday night when McClintock School, 1952-53 Gray-Y cage league champions, versus All-Stars, who were picked from the remaining four teams in the loop. The contest will start at 7 o'clock, preceding the make-up game between the two top teams of the Y-City league, Wills Cleaners and Warren Business School.

The 12-man All-Star team, which was picked by league advisors and McClintock players, will consist of Billy Brumagim, Bill Mervine and Haslett from Home Street; Dick Terry, Mike Cashman, Wilson and Gahring from East street; Craig Johnson from Lacy; and Dick Fowler, Pete Ostergard, Chuck Cassell and Kirtz Lester from South street.

Heading the lineup for Coach Dave Olson's champs are Nicky Creola, Joey Massa, Tommy Watson, Joe Castagnino and R. Kane. McClintock was undefeated in league competition with 12 straight wins.

New York—Joe Juliano, 153½, New York, outpointed Italo Scortochini, 154, Milan, Italy, 8.

Newark, N. J.—Junius Woods, 151, New York, outpointed Bobby Rosado, 145, Brooklyn, 8.

Kiner in Camp, Aims At Better Average

Havana (AP)—Ralph Kiner has finally arrived at the Pittsburgh Pirates training camp after a long distance argument with general manager Branch Rickey and is ready to take aim on another home run title.

Kiner arrived last night from his Palm Springs, Calif., home and officially signs his new contract today, calling for a reported 20 per cent reduction of his $80,000 salary in 1952.

The Pirate slugger will attempt to boost his batting average above the .244 he hit during the 1952 season. However, Kiner hit 37 home runs last year to tie Hank Sauer of Chicago for the National League title.

Favor Johnny Bratton Over Jones Tonight

New York (AP)—Johnny Bratton is a 3 to 1 choice to even his score with the Jones boys tonight when he faces middleweight Bobby Jones of Oakland, Calif., at Madison Square Garden.

Last December jolting Johnny of Chicago was a 4 to 1 shot to whip Ralph Tiger Jones, no relation to Bobby, but the Tiger wasn't awed by Bratton's reputation and all but chased him out of the ring to provide an upset.

If Bobby can get Bratton mad, the Garden and television fight fans around the country are liable to see the better half of the in-and-out kid. The 10 p. m. EST ten rounder will be broadcast ABC and telecast NBC.

O'Brien Twins Join Pittsburgh Pirates

Seattle (AP)—Johnnie and Eddie O'Brien, Seattle University's fabulous basketball twins, were in the Pittsburgh Pirates fold today.

Ed McGarrick, Pirate scout who signed the South Amboy, N. J., brothers to their first major league contract, said it was a five-figure deal.

McGarrick wouldn't reveal the figures, but guesses as to the bonus the twins received for signing ranged from $35,000 to $45,000 each.

Royal Brougham, Post-Intelligencer sports editor, set the figure at $45,000. He said the twins also will receive an annual salary of $5,000 each for three years.

Boxers Suspended as Fight Is Postponed

Huntington, W. Va. (AP)—Promoter Jack Laken and Boxer Ron Harper were suspended by the West Virginia State Athletic Commission last night after a scheduled fight was postponed.

Commissioner B. W. West ordered a hearing today to find out why Harper had injured an arm while changing a flat tire. However, Dr. Harlan A. Stiles, ring physician, said he had examined Harper an hour before the show and found him in perfect physical condition.

Fieldhouse officials estimated there were about 1,000 fans inside or at the arena door when the main bout was postponed.

Class B Title Game In Westminster Gym

Mercer High, District 10, Class B champion, will battle for the PIAA Western crown next Tuesday night at the Westminster Field House in New Wilmington. The opponent for Mercer will be decided tonight when Irwin (District 7) faces Cresson (District 6) in a preliminary regional B game.

Class A action resumes tomorrow night with two games in the West and one in the East.

Bud Jeannette's Career Paved With Snakes, Lack of Money In His Early Days as Player

(The following article was turned over to us by Frank Masterson, The Times-Mirror composing room foreman, and is about Bud Jeannette, Bud, as you will remember, used to play pro ball in Warren when the HyVis Oil and Penns were in the National Baseball League and also played pro football. The article is about an interview a Washington Star reporter had with Mrs. Jeannette (the former Bonnie Bidwell of Warren) after Coach Jeannette's Georgetown Hoyas' lost to Louisville the first of March.)

By BILL FUCHS

A basketball team can't miss as many shots as Georgetown did against Louisville in the opening round of the National Invitation Tournament Saturday night and still win.

As one expert put it later: "All season long we've had one or two boys hitting. Usually it was Bill Bolger and Lou Gigante. And when these two hit, the others also start coming through."

Coach's Wife Knows Stuff

Mrs. Bonnie Jeannette, wife of Georgetown Coach Buddy Jeannette, had the Hoyas making only 25 for 87 shots. The official scorers had it 25 for 83, but the tendency here is to give the lady the benefit of the doubt. After all, Mrs. Jeannette has been following her husband around on his basketball ventures for the last 14 years or ever since Buddy talked a friend into selling his golf clubs, Buddy, just out of Washington and Jefferson, got his first pro basketball job as a player for a club in Warren, Pa. Bonnie's home town. But he didn't meet the girl he was destined to marry until the night before he was leaving town at the end of the season.

But after meeting the attractive brunette, Buddy couldn't stay away. After two weeks at his home in New Kensington, Pa., he went back to Warren.

"He didn't have any money," Mrs. Jeannette recalls with a grin, "so in order to get back to Warren he had to borrow it from a friend, Art Hyatt. And Hyatt had to sell his golf clubs to raise the money."

(Hyatt is the brother of Charley Hyatt, Pittsburgh University's great basketball star of slightly more than 20 years ago.)

Once back in Warren, Buddy had to get a job.

And I never worked so hard in my life before or since," he says. "I worked for a transit company that did a lot of work for oil companies. I carried heavy iron pipes up and down mountains and battled rattlesnakes on the way up and down. When I got a job playing basketball in Detroit, we got married."

Sat With Fingers Crossed

Mrs. Jeannette's been in basketball ever since. No team Buddy ever had had a more staunch booster. Earlier she would sit in the stands with her fingers crossed on both hands throughout the game and still keep statistics. Did you ever try to write with your fingers crossed for any length of time? Mrs. Jeannette had a time of it after the game trying to pry her fingers apart. Besides, the good luck charm didn't work all the time, so she gave it up.

Mrs. Jeannette, the mother of a 12-year-old daughter, was the only one among Georgetown's official party at the tournament who mentioned the pressure put on the players.

"They're only kids," she said, "and we do expect so much of them."

Washington has been expecting very much from the Georgetown team ever since the freshman team of four years ago compiled that great record.

Looking ahead, Jeannette will have only Jack Vail, Tommy Doyle, Gigante and Joe Carroll back next year. But there's a batch of talent coming from a freshman team that won 10 of 15 games against tough opposition. Coops! Let's not start that again.

Schools Will Arrange Own Football Schedules

Pittsburgh (AP)—By a 24-4 vote, the Football Committee of the Western Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic League last night rejected a proposal that gridiron schedules be set up on the same basis as basketball schedules. As a consequence, individual schools will continue to arrange their own football schedules.

The ancient church at Valencia, Mexico, is said to have been built with mortar containing powdered silver and wine.

Yboy Jelke Goes To Jail for Having Gun

New York (AP)—One court to delay sentencing playboy of F. Jelke for forcing young into prostitution, but another gave him eight months in jail for illegal possession of guns. He stubby, 23-year-old heir to a multimillion fortune, and son of a socially-registered family, scheduled to hear his penalty in two cases today.

In General Sessions Judge Nicholas L. Valente postponed sentencing in the sensational conspiracy prostitution case, hunting for he may give Jelke a suspended sentence.

In the two-count illegal gun case, a three-judge Special Session Court imposed two four-month terms in the workhouse, to be served consecutively.

DELS JACKET WORN BY SLAIN DAUGHTER

Warren (AP)—Mrs. Sophie Bankowski wept today as she modeled a murder jury the pea jacket 15-year-old daughter Margaret wore the night she was slain four years ago.

Mrs. Bankowski's appearance in court, her daughter's clothing was the highlight of the commonwealth's trial to prove that mother and daughter resembled each other.

This resemblance is the cornerstone of the state's case against Mrs. Bankowski, 41, accused of bludgeoning Margaret to death in mistake for her mother, Mrs. Bankowski wept bitterly as she identified a picture of her daughter's body.

ORE CONVICTS AWAIT HEARINGS FOR RIOTING

Pittsburgh (AP)—More convicts awaited their turn today to answer charges growing out of a riot at Western State Penitentiary.

Approximately 50 of 79 prisoners used in the outbreak have been in hearings before an alderman in the prison walls. All but one was held for court on charges which include riot, prison break, felonious assault and larceny.

ARTIST'S HUMOR ADORNS PEWS

By GEORGE MACKIE
AP Newsfeatures

Pomfret, Conn. — J. Gregory Wiggins is an artist who doesn't allow his art to interfere with his sense of humor.

This smiling, scholarly, 62-year-old woodcarver adorns many schools and churches. His most ambitious single undertaking was to carve the wood work and church furniture in the million and a half dollar chapel at Trinity College in Hartford, Conn.

One of the more than 50 pews he carved there is a memorial to the late William G. Mather, Cleveland steel man who gave Trinity the chapel. One of that pew end's two scenes shows a man with upraised pick, symbolic of the iron mining which started the Mather fortune.

The other scene shows two pilgrims kneeling, a third reading to the two worshippers and an Indian high-tailing it for the underbrush. Wiggins carved it a good many years ago, but he still laughs as he explains what inspired the Pilgrim scene.

It stemmed from a remark of Mather's that his Mayflower ancestors were the type of colonists who, upon reaching America's shores, "first fell upon their knees and then upon the aborigines."

You have to know where to find it, but the Trinity chapel also has Wiggins' impression, in beautifully carved oak, of Archimedes in his bathtub, discovering the law of specific gravity.

This is on the underside of one of the 30 misericord seats in the chancel, hinged like seats in a theater. The plan, not yet carried out, is to have each seat represent one of the subjects taught at Trinity.

Wiggins decided to start with physics, and to depict the story of the Greek mathematician of the third century B. C., because, he says, "it always amused me a lot."

Another of Wiggins' Trinity carvings shows Sir Isaac Newton pointing to a falling apple, the experience which is supposed to have led him to explain the law of gravity.

"Joke stuff," is what Wiggins calls the whimsy and humor he puts into his carvings. "It's as old as the hills," he says. "It was used in heraldry."

If the person giving the commission insists, Wiggins will do a carving according to specific directions, but he always likes to be given a free hand.

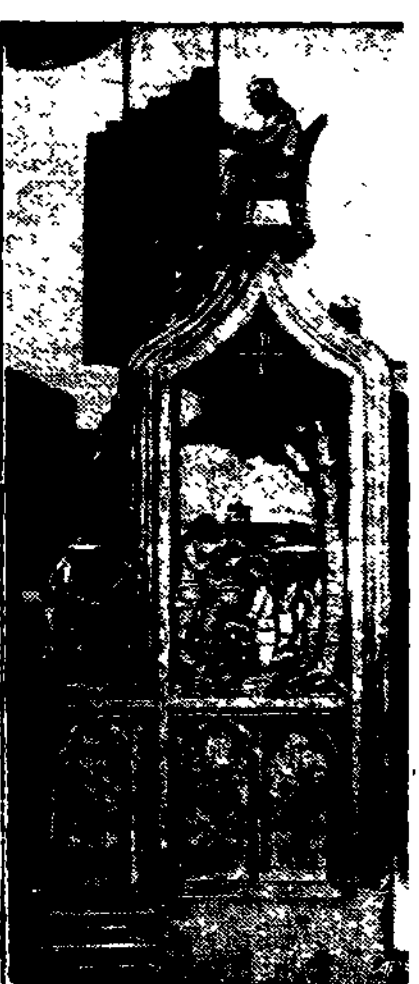

"Lots of times people want you to carve something that won't be so effective—a snowstorm or something like that," he says.

For more than 30 years, Wiggins, a bachelor, has been doing his carving in a room that was intended to be the parlor of the large house he and his sister occupy in Pomfret, a village off the beaten track in the lonely, comparatively bleak and windswept highlands of northeastern Connecticut.

Tennessee born and Kentucky bred, Wiggins remarked wryly: "We've been here since 1897, and we're almost accepted as Pomfret residents."

Wiggins wanted to be an archaeologist, a doctor, or an army officer, but became a school teacher instead. He served on the faculties of several boys schools as a teacher of Greek and German.

After World War I, during which he served two years overseas, he decided to "stay at home for one year to see if I could make a go of woodcarving. He's still making a go of it with his 150 carving instruments in the indescribably cluttered parlor workshop.

HUMOR in the wood. They "fell upon their knees, and then upon the aborigines."

"It's an awful mess but very convenient," he grinned.

He recently completed some carving for the paneling of the Alumni House at Williams College. Wiggins now is engaged in carving a series of little shields for the paneling of a dining hall at St. Paul's school.

About two-thirds of his work is done for schools and churches. Much of the work he does for individuals consists of eight to ten inch figures of Civil War personalities. He has a complete set of the Brady photographs to use as models.

"Last year I did five Lincolns and two Stephen A. Douglasses," he said.

Wiggins had no formal training as a woodcarver. "But I did," he related, "spend a couple of years in woodworking shops after I graduated from Harvard."

As a boy, however, he found that he could carve better toy soldiers than he could buy, and he was "always fascinated with small scale stuff," especially Oriental work.

Jobs don't have to come in very fast to keep Wiggins busy. The chance of a carving alone in the Trinity chapel occupied him for nearly six months.

Thirty-two feet long and 14 inches high, it depicts various Pilgrimages of the Christian era, starting with the Wise Men en route to Bethlehem. Also shown are present day pilgrims going to the shrine of St. Anne de Beaupre.

Wiggins says the student and faculty processions you see on college campuses at class day are a sort of pilgrimage.

So he included that in the cresting, too.

Soil and Crops Improved by Legumes in Pastures

Dr. Hugh Bennett inspecting an 88-acre pasture improved by the addition of white clover, hop clover and lespedeza.

While the importance of legumes in meadows and pastures is almost universally acknowledged, the specific values of legumes are not always fully recognized.

In a recent address before the American Dairy Science Association, Ralph E. Hodgson, assistant chief of the Bureau of Dairy Industry, stressed the importance of legumes in dairy pastures and why the dairyman should go all the way in the use of legumes in new pasture seedings and in renovating old grass pastures.

It is estimated that the average yield of present-day pastures has been no more, and probably less, than the average hay crop which is below 1 1/2 tons per acre, or about 1,500 pounds of total digestible nutrients (TDN).

In a 5-year pasture renovation experiment a portion of an old bluegrass-orchardgrass pasture was left unrenovated as a check and the remainder given renovation treatment by disking the old sod in the fall and spring, and spring-seeding 8 pounds alfalfa, 3 pounds red clover and 1 pound Ladino clover per acre. Both renovated and check portions received 10 tons manure, 500 pounds 0-14-14 fertilizer and 1 ton of limestone at time of renovation.

The average percentage of legumes in the unrenovated check for the 4 years following renovation was 13 per cent and for the renovated sods 24 per cent. The average TDN yields of the unrenovated sod for the 4 years was 2750 pounds per acre and of the renovated sod was over 4,000 pounds or nearly 3 times the estimated TDN obtained from the average pasture.

When Ladino clover was grown with both orchardgrass and tall fescue, it produced yields of dry matter and protein in excess of the amounts obtained from pure stands of these grasses to which had been added 100 pounds of commercial nitrogen per acre. The average increase of protein with Ladino clover was 20 per cent more than with the commercial nitrogen. Nitrogen produced by legumes also has the advantage of being available over a longer period of time.

The inclusion of legumes in the pasture mixture not only increased the protein content of the mixed forage but also the protein content of the grass grown in association with the legumes, as well as the total yield of protein per acre, so that it should much more adequately provide the total protein needs of grazing animals.

Also the presence of legumes in the stand increases the nitrogen content of the soil. In a comparison of alfalfa and timothy fields the soil under alfalfa contained an average of nearly 5 times as much nitrogen as under the timothy.

Legumes in the pasture mixture are helpful in maintaining a higher yield of forages and a higher protein, calcium, and phosphorus content in the forages throughout the grazing season. Where there is a good rotation of legumes in the mixture there is a more even distribution of herbage available for grazing and a higher protein, mineral and carotene content of the herbage during the critical, hot, dry periods of summer.

Rep. Simpson Heads Republican Committee

Washington (AP)—Rep. Richard M. Simpson, dean of the Pennsylvania Republican delegation in Congress, today headed the GOP Congressional Campaign Committee which will seek to establish firmer control of the House and Senate in 1934.

Simpson, who at 52 is serving his ninth term in the House, was named chairman of the committee at a meeting yesterday of the 38 Republicans representing states which have one or more GOP congressmen.

MILK TO TAKE DROP IN PITTSBURGH AREA

Harrisburg (AP)—The State Milk Control Commission said today that the price of milk will "absolutely" drop a cent a quart to 24 cents in the Pittsburgh area on April 1.

The question arose Wednesday when 14 Pittsburgh milk dealers appealed to Dauphin County Court that the commission's scheduled April price changes would give them an insufficient profit spread.

AT MARCONI CLUB

Rose LaRue, who is booked as a "lovely vocalist" after her recent appearances with the Horace Heidt show, and Harry Franks, an ace comedian, have been booked at the Marconi Outing club for appearances at 11 and 1 o'clock Saturday and Sunday nights. Ford Winner and his trio will provide the inspiration for dancing. Last week's show brought to Warren the best harmonica player ever heard here, and the applause was almost unending. This week's show also is given high advance praise.

ARRAIGNED TODAY
Due to be arraigned before Magistrate Tracy M. Greenlund this afternoon were two local men arrested today by Borough Police for operating merchandise punch boards. Chief of Police Mike Evan said the boards had been brought to the attention of police and the arrests followed.

BUSINESS INDEX
Pittsburgh (AP)—Business in the Pittsburgh district last week advanced on all fronts to 200.8 per cent of the 1925-29 average, the University of Pittsburgh said today. Major gains were recorded in freight shipments and the volume of trade.

NORWEGIAN TRAGEDY
Oslo, Norway (AP)—Nineteen workers were killed yesterday in a violent blast in a coal pit on Spitsbergen Island, reports reaching here today said. The explosion rocked one of the pits operated by the King's Bay Coal Co. at King's Bay. No further details were available.

BEAVER FALLS BLAST
Beaver Falls (AP)—An explosion caused an estimated $50,000 damage yesterday at the Babcock-Wilcox Tube Co. plant here. No one was injured. A company official blamed a leak in the heating unit of a salt bath furnace.

Spring Tripping Into Picture of 5:01 P. M.

There's snow in the air today but spring will pay no heed to such a minor detail when she trips lightly into the picture at one minute after five this afternoon. Winter, at the same time, will wrap the draperies of his couch about him and lie down to pleasant dreams of an extremely mild existence. His past was without incident, his future is a nonentity.

Between midnight and 3 a. m., winter tried to muster up one final blast but it was all in vain and the best he could do was leave a fine spray on windshields.

Summer is about 13 weeks hence. She will arrive at noon on June 21.

NEWS OF NEIGHBOR'S DEATH KILLS WOMAN

Midland (AP)—Told her 63-year-old neighbor was killed by a Greyhound Bus, a 56-year-old housewife died of a heart attack last night at her home in nearby Industry.

The victims were John Thorne and Mrs. Litha Maloney. State police said Thorne was struck by the bus while walking along Route 63. He died of a skull fracture.

pected from local borough or rural sources.

It will depend largely on those business firms and concerns, plus an appeal to Warren residents who may now be out of town on extended winter vacations, to make up the greater part of the deficit that confronts the local Chapter of the Red Cross.

Any volunteers on the Fund Campaign who still have calls to make are asked to make them over the weekend. Industrial or commercial firms whose contributions have not been sent into Red Cross Headquarters are urged to make prompt payment.

Warren folks have never, yet, failed to meet the goal assigned the local chapter of Red Cross and it is hoped the exception will not occur this month.

ACTRESS OF MUSICAL COMEDY STAGE IS DEAD

New York (AP)—Irene Bordoni, vivacious actress and singer of the musical comedy stage, died yesterday.

Miss Bordoni, 55 and a native of Paris, died of cancer at Jewish Memorial Hospital, which she entered Tuesday. She was at her zenith as a Broadway star from 1917 to 1930.

Miss Bordoni started on the stage in a chorus line in Paris at the age of 13.

CAR HITS TREE

City police reported this morning that while on routine patrol about town, they came upon a wrecked car on Buchanan street at 3:45 a. m. today. Investigation disclosed that the vehicle was owned by James Frederick Monroe, of Jamestown. Damage was estimated at $400. Monroe told officers that he was driving south on Crescent street, and that opposite the Halle Garage, a tire blew out, causing the car to swerve over the curb and strike a tree. He and two passengers then turned the car around and drove to Buchanan street where friends reside. No one was injured, and there was little damage to the tree, police said.

Three Co. Doctors Will Be Called for Exams March 30 here on April 29, another call is for 32 men to leave here on March 31 for pre-induction physical examinations. Names of the 29 to leave here next Wednesday have already been published, and those to be inducted late in April will be announced within a few weeks, but names of those going for pre-induction physicals are no longer released in advance.

Mr. Keller said today he was not at liberty to reveal the names of the three doctors called for re-examination.

SUPPLIES FROM SWEDEN

What is thought to be the first carload of wood products ever received in Warren from Sweden came here yesterday consigned to the Crescent Furniture Company. It consisted of four by eight foot panels, one-eighth inch thick, of a hard pressed fibre board made from wood fiber with resin added. Officials of the company said the product was ordered from a New York importer and was sent direct from the mill in Sweden to New York, then shipped here by rail. The material will be used for case and mirror backs in bedroom furniture manufactured by the local company.

Penn'a Avenue West Landmark Being Razed

One of Warren's older homes, the former Palmer Gilbert residence at Hazel street and Pennsylvania avenue, west, is being torn down. It is located on property acquired a few years ago by the Warren Hotel Association.

Built about 75 years ago by the late Ephraim Cowan, publisher of the old Warren Mail and father of the late Willis and Dwight Cowan, the house was at one time one of Warren's show places. Palmer Gilbert, then living in Clarendon, bought the place about 70 years ago. A large barn built by Mr. Gilbert in later years has already been razed.

The old mansion contained 13 rooms and was constructed entirely of lumber from camps in Warren county.

Purchase of Several Pieces of New Equipment for Hospital Is Authorized by the Board

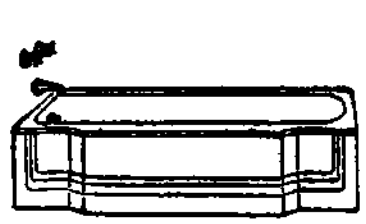

Several pieces of new hospital equipment were approved for purchase at the regular monthly meeting of the board of directors of the Warren General Hospital yesterday in the front west wing of the hospital.

The house committee reported that a new resuscitator had been approved by the instrument committee and purchased. The purchase of a new needle-cleaner and also a glove-dryer and powderer were approved by the board. In the course of the discussion it was disclosed that 100 pairs of rubber gloves are used daily in the hospital. Purchase of new tables to stand at the ends of the corridors in the new wings, was approved. The house committee also reported a gift of 10 pillow radios for the use of patients. The matter of purchasing a new and larger ice machine to be installed as part of the new building program, was referred to the house committee for a quotation of prices.

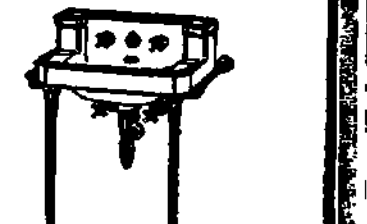

Some of the public health organizations in the community have requested beds which can no longer be used in the hospital. This matter was discussed and it was re-

Prove THE DIFFERENCE AT THE WHEEL... TODAY!

ACCURATE...POSITIVE

2-Way Hydraulic Control with the MASSEY-HARRIS 2-Plow 22 and Depth-o-matic System

● Depth-o-matic 2-Way Hydraulic System gives you depth control of both mounted and pull-behind tools anywhere in your field. It's accurate, positive... completely safe. Depth-o-matic is but one of many better farming advantages you have with the 22. Others like 23.91 maximum drawbar horsepower; full-width operator platform; clear unobstructed vision; big 10-34 tires; the weight and power to handle both mounted and pull-behind tools mean the 22 does more work faster, easier, at less cost. And remember, the 22 is the lowest-priced tractor per drawbar horsepower in the 2-plow field.

Stop in for complete details... see us today. Be one of the first on our demonstration schedule.

COMMENDED BY THE CONSUMER SERVICE BUREAU OF PARENTS' MAGAZINE

SEMPER FIDELIS—"Uniform of the Day" will take on a new meaning for members of the Marine Corps who are planning to help celebrate the Rowan Bicentennial in Salisbury, S. C., by wearing Leatherneck uniforms of the past. At left is Sgt. H. L. Coates, in the uniform the Marines wore during the War of 1812; Sgt. Joe Russ, center, is wearing the uniform of 1775; and Ralph Cherry, right, wears the uniform of 1847.

Decision in Forest Deer Case Is Delayed

Tionesta — In court Monday, Judge Allison D. Wade delayed decision in the Whisner-Spangler deer possession case pending further study.

Wayne Whisner, Knox police chief, and George and Mary Spangler, Strattonville, R. D., were charged with possessing and transporting an illegal buck deer. They were arrested by Game Warden W. D. Denton, District Game Protector in Clarion.

Evidence in the case was all heard in the court session Monday, but the decision will be handed down at a later date.

Also presented in court were 2 petitions for the May term of Orphans Court. The petitions involve an insurance settlement to be turned over to Calvin W. Wert by Richard Wert and Betty Wert Trombley.

Petition for the discharge of administrator D. H. Baum for Mary Hays Dupuy was also presented.

LANDER

Lander — Marilyn Hamilton, Jamestown, visited Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell Mahan over the weekend.

Mrs. Mahan and son, Maurice, with Miss Hamilton and Raymond Mahan, paid a visit to Elmer Hansen, who is in the Roswell Park Hospital in Buffalo.

Mrs. Mitchell Mahan has received word that her brother, Lt. Kenneth Mason, was arriving in San Diego March 17 from Korea. He was being met at the port by his wife, who lives in Brenterton, Wash.

Annual Election Held By the V. F. W. Post

Charles Johnson was elected commander of Dinsmoor-Schwing Post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars at the annual organization meeting last night.

Other officers are as follows: Albert Sidon, senior vice commander; Edward Nasman, junior vice commander; Richard English, chaplain; Charles Pearson, quartermaster; Leo Schuler, judge advocate; Karl Peterson, surgeon; and Clem Anderson, trustee for three years.

The new officers will be installed at the first meeting in April when the terms of the incumbent Commander, George Jerman, and the other present officers will expire.

CAPITAL PLAYGROUND—The south lawn of the White House is as good a place as any to go bike riding, decided Dwight David Eisenhower, II, and his sister, Barbara Ann, grandchildren of President Eisenhower. The children, whose father, Major John Eisenhower, is serving in Korea, are on their first visit to the White House. Some twenty years earlier, the late President Roosevelt's grandchildren romped over the same grounds.

ITALIAN FASCISTS ACT—Waving a large Italian flag, these pro-Fascist students demonstrate in a Rome street, protesting the bombing of a meeting in Trieste. The group attacked a Red newspaper office, and 12 people were injured before police broke up the gathering.
